Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill creates a student loan repayment program for volunteer emergency service providers to be administered by the Higher Educational Aids Board. A volunteer emergency service provider is defined in the bill as an individual who is a Wisconsin resident and who actively provides service in this state as a volunteer emergency medical responder, volunteer emergency medical services practitioner, or volunteer fire fighter. To be eligible for financial assistance under the program, the volunteer emergency service provider must 1) complete a two-year probationary period in this state after enrollment in the program; 2) serve as a volunteer emergency service provider, in the year in which financial assistance is provided, in an area in which there is an extremely high need for volunteer emergency services; and 3) have an outstanding educational loan balance. The bill defines “area in which there is an extremely high need for volunteer emergency services” as a county in this state that has a population of 35,000 or less. An eligible volunteer emergency service provider may receive up to $24,000 paid over six years in student loan relief while the individual continues to be a volunteer emergency service provider.
For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
