AN ACT to create chapter 156 and 979.01 (1j) of the statutes; relating to:
permitting certain qualified individuals to make a request for medication for the purpose of ending their lives and providing a penalty.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill permits an individual who is at least 18 years of age, mentally capable, and has a terminal disease with a prognosis of less than six months to live to voluntarily request a prescription for medication for the purpose of ending his or her life. Under the bill, “terminal disease” means an incurable and irreversible disease that has been medically confirmed and will, within reasonable medical judgment, produce death within six months. The bill authorizes the individual’s attending provider to issue a prescription for the medication if specified requirements are met.
Under the bill, an attending or consulting provider must be a licensed physician, an advanced practice registered nurse, or a physician assistant. Death following self-administering medication in accordance with the requirements of the bill does not alone constitute grounds for post-mortem inquiry and such a death may not be designated as suicide or homicide.

The bill requires that the Department of Health Services develop and distribute certain standard forms to be used for reporting by attending providers in the context of requests for medication under the provisions of the bill.

The bill establishes certain requirements that must be met before an attending provider may issue a prescription in response to an individual’s request for a prescription for medication to end his or her life. With certain exceptions for an individual who is determined to be within 15 days of death, a qualified individual must make an oral request and a written request, and reiterate the oral request to his or her attending provider no less than 15 days after making the initial oral request. The oral and written requests for medical aid in dying may only be made by the requesting individual and not by any surrogate decision-maker, health care proxy, attorney-in-fact for health care, or through an advance health care directive. The written request must be substantially in the form provided in the bill. It must be signed and dated by the individual and witnessed by at least one individual who meets certain qualifications and attests that the individual is capable, acting voluntarily, and is not being coerced or unduly influenced to sign the request.

The bill requires an attending provider to comply with certain requirements with respect to requests for medication under the bill, including 1) determining whether an individual has a terminal disease with a prognosis of six months or less to live and is mentally capable; 2) confirming that the individual’s request does not arise from coercion or undue influence; 3) informing the individual of certain information specified in the bill, including the potential risks, benefits, and probable result of self-administering the prescribed medication; 4) informing the individual that there is no obligation to fill the prescription nor an obligation to self-administer the medication, even if obtained; 6) providing a referral for comfort care, palliative care, hospice care, pain control, or other end-of-life treatment options as requested or as medically indicated; 7) referring the individual to a consulting provider for medical confirmation that the individual requesting medication under the bill both has a terminal disease with a prognosis of six months or less to live and is mentally capable; and 8) before providing a prescription, confirming that the individual has made an informed decision to obtain medication under the bill, offering the individual an opportunity to rescind the request, and educating the individual on the recommended procedure for self-administration of the medication, the safe-keeping and proper disposal of unused medication, the importance of having another person present when the person self-administers the medication, and not taking the medication in a public place. Under the bill, a consulting provider must evaluate an individual making a request for medication under the provisions of the bill and confirm, in writing, to the attending provider that the individual has a terminal disease with a prognosis of six months or less to live; that the individual is mentally capable or that the consulting provider has referred the individual to a licensed mental health provider for further evaluation; and that the individual is acting voluntarily, free from coercion or undue influence. The bill requires that if either the attending provider or the consulting provider is unable to confirm that the individual is capable of making an informed decision, the attending provider or the consulting provider must refer the individual to a licensed mental health provider for determination regarding mental capability.

The bill specifies that a provider may choose whether or not to practice medical aid in dying under the provisions of the bill, but if a provider is unable or unwilling to fulfill an individual’s request for medication under the bill, the provider must still document the date of the individual’s request in the patient’s medical record and, if requested, transfer the individual’s medical records to a new provider. The bill also specifies that a health care facility may prohibit providers from qualifying, prescribing, or dispensing medication under the provisions of the bill while performing duties for the facility, but if it does so, it must provide advance notice to providers and staff in writing, and then on a yearly basis. If an individual wishes to transfer to another facility, the facility must coordinate a timely transfer. Finally, no health care facility may prohibit a provider from fulfilling the requirements of informed consent and meeting the medical standard of care, including by allowing a provider to prescribe medication under the provisions of the bill outside of the scope of the provider’s employment or contract with the prohibiting facility and off the premises of the the prohibiting facility.

The bill includes immunity for actions taken in good faith, but also includes penalties for intentionally or knowingly 1) altering or forging an individual’s request for medication under the bill; 2) concealing or destroying a rescission of a request for medication under the bill; or 3) coercing or exerting undue influence on an individual with a terminal disease to request or use medication under the bill. The bill expressly does not not limit civil liability or damages arising from negligent conduct or intentional misconduct.

Under the bill, insurance, including insurance rates, may not be conditioned on or affected by an individual’s act of making or rescinding a request for medication under the provisions of the bill. Further, a qualified individual’s act of self-administering medication consistent with the provisions of the bill does not invalidate any part of a life, health, or accident insurance policy, or an annuity policy. Finally, no insurance plan may deny or alter benefits to an individual with a terminal disease who is a covered beneficiary based on the availability of medical aid in dying, the individual’s request for medication under the provisions of the bill, or the absence of such a request.

Because this bill creates a new crime or revises a penalty for an existing crime, the Joint Review Committee on Criminal Penalties may be requested to prepare a report.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

2. Offer the individual an opportunity to rescind the request for medication under this chapter.

3. Educate the individual on the recommended procedure for self-administering the medication to be prescribed; the safe-keeping and proper disposal of unused medication in accordance with state and federal law; the importance of having another person present when the individual self-administers the medication to be prescribed; and not taking the medication in a public place.

(m) Deliver the prescription personally, by mail, or through an authorized

(c) The individual is acting voluntarily, free from coercion or undue influence.

156.17 Referral for confirmation that the requesting individual is mentally capable. (1) If either an attending provider or a consulting provider is unable to confirm that an individual making a request for medication under this chapter is capable of making an informed decision, the attending provider or the consulting provider shall refer the individual to a licensed mental health care provider for determination regarding mental capability.

(2) The licensed mental health care provider who evaluates the individual under this section shall submit to the requesting attending provider or consulting provider a written determination of whether the individual is mentally capable.

(3) If the licensed mental health care provider determines that the individual is not mentally capable, the individual may not be deemed a qualified individual and the attending provider may not prescribe medication to the individual under this chapter.

156.19 Safe disposal of unused medications. A person who has custody or control of medication prescribed under this chapter after a qualified individual’s death shall dispose of the medication by lawful means in accordance with state and federal guidelines.

156.21 No duty to provide medical aid in dying. (1) A provider shall provide sufficient information to an individual with a terminal disease regarding available options, the alternatives, and the foreseeable risks and benefits of each option so that the individual is able to make informed decisions regarding his or her end-of-life health care, but a provider may choose whether or not to practice medical aid in dying under this chapter.

(2) If a provider is unable or unwilling to fulfill an individual’s request for medication under this chapter, the provider shall do all of the following:

(a) Document the date of the individual’s request in the individual’s medical record.

(b) Upon request, transfer the individual’s medical records to the new provider, consistent with federal and state law.

(3) A provider may not engage in false, misleading, or deceptive practices relating to a willingness to qualify an individual or provide a prescription to a qualified individual under this chapter. Intentionally misleading an individual constitutes coercion.

156.23 Health care facility permissible prohibitions and duties. (1) A health care facility may prohibit providers from qualifying, prescribing, or dispensing medication under this chapter while performing duties for the facility. A prohibiting facility must provide express advance notice in writing at the time of hiring, contracting with, or privileging providers and staff, and on a yearly basis thereafter. A health care facility that fails to provide advance notice in writing waives the right to enforce the prohibition or prohibitions.

(2) If an individual who is a patient at a prohibiting health care facility and has made a request concerning medical aid in dying wishes to transfer care to another health care facility, the prohibiting facility shall coordinate a timely transfer, including transfer of the individual’s medical records that include notation of the date the individual first made a request concerning medical aid in dying.
(3) No health care facility may prohibit a provider from doing any of the following in fulfilling the requirements of informed consent and meeting the medical standard of care:

(a) Providing information to an individual regarding the individual's health status, including diagnosis, prognosis, recommended treatment, treatment alternatives, and any potential risks to the individual's health.

(b) Providing information about available services, relevant community resources, and how to access those resources to obtain the care of the individual's choice. Providing information about available services, including health care services available under this chapter, information about relevant community resources, and information about how to access those resources to obtain the care of the individual's choice.

(c) Prescribing medication under this chapter for a qualified individual outside the scope of the provider's employment or contract with the prohibiting facility and off the premises of the prohibiting facility.

(d) Being present when a qualified individual self-administers medication prescribed under this chapter or at the time of death, if requested by the qualified individual or his or her representative and outside the scope of the provider's employment or contractual duties with the prohibiting facility.

(4) A health care facility may not engage in false, misleading, or deceptive practices relating to its policy regarding end-of-life care services, including whether it has a policy that prohibits affiliated providers from determining an individual's qualification for medical aid in dying or writing a prescription for a qualified individual under this chapter, or intentionally denying an individual access to medication under this chapter by failing to transfer an individual and the individual’s medical records to another provider in a timely manner. Intentionally misleading an individual or deploying misinformation to obstruct access to services under this chapter constitutes coercion or undue influence.

(5) If any part of this chapter is found to be in conflict with federal requirements that are a prescribed condition to receipt of federal funds, the conflicting part of this chapter is inoperative solely to the extent of the conflict with respect to the facility directly affected, and such finding or determination does not affect the operation of the remainder of the chapter.

156.25 Immunities for actions in good faith; prohibition against reprisals. (1) No person or health care facility shall be subject to civil or criminal liability or professional disciplinary action, including censure, suspension, loss of license, loss of privileges, loss of membership, or any other penalty, for engaging in good faith compliance with this chapter.

(2) No provider, health care facility, professional organization, or association shall subject a provider to discharge, demotion, censure, discipline, suspension, loss of license, loss of privileges, loss of membership, discrimination, or any other penalty for providing medical aid in dying in accordance with the medical standard of care and in good faith under this chapter, except if a provider acts in violation of a health care facility’s valid prohibition or prohibitions as set forth under s. 156.23.

(3) No provider, health care facility, professional organization, or association shall subject a provider to discharge, demotion, censure, discipline, suspension, loss of license, loss of privileges, loss of membership, discrimination, or any other penalty for providing medical aid in dying in accordance with the medical standard of care and in good faith under this chapter while engaged in the outside practice of medicine and off the facility premises or for providing scientific and accurate information about medical aid in dying to an individual when discussing end-of-life care options.

(4) An individual is not subject to civil or criminal liability or professional discipline if, at the request of a qualified individual, the individual is present outside the scope of the individual’s employment contract and off the facility premises when the qualified individual self-administers medication under this chapter or at the time of death. An individual who is present may, without civil or criminal liability, assist the qualified individual by preparing the medication prescribed under this chapter.

(5) A request by an individual for and the provision of medication under this chapter alone does not constitute neglect or elder abuse for any purpose of law, nor shall it be the sole basis for appointment of a guardian or conservator.

(6) This chapter does not limit civil liability for intentional or negligent misconduct.

156.27 Reporting requirements. (1) The department shall create a checklist form and a follow up form for attending providers to facilitate collection of the information described in this chapter and post these forms to the department’s Internet site.

(2) Within 30 calendar days of providing a prescription for medication under this chapter, an attending provider shall submit to the department a completed checklist form, as provided under sub. (1), with all of the following information:

(a) The qualified individual’s name and date of birth.

(b) The qualified individual’s terminal diagnosis and prognosis.

(c) Notice that the requirements under this chapter have been completed.

(d) Notice that medication has been prescribed under this chapter.
Within 60 calendar days of notification of a qualified individual’s death from self-administration of medication prescribed under this chapter, the attending provider shall submit to the department a follow up form, as provided under sub. (1), with all of the following information:

(a) The qualified individual’s name and date of birth.
(b) The date of the qualified individual’s death.
(c) A notation of whether or not the qualified individual was enrolled in hospice services at the time of the qualified individual’s death.

The department shall annually review a sample of records related to requests under this chapter to ensure compliance and issue a public statistical report of nonidentifying information. The report shall be limited to the following statistical information:

(a) The number of prescriptions for medication written under this chapter.
(b) The number of providers who wrote prescriptions for medication under this chapter.
(c) The number of qualified individuals who died following self-administration of medication prescribed and dispensed under this chapter.

Except as otherwise required by law, the information collected by the department that is related to requests under this chapter is not a public record and is not available for public inspection under s. 19.35.

Willful failure or refusal to timely submit records required under this chapter nullifies protections under s. 156.25.

156.29 Effect on construction of will, contracts, and statutes. (1) No provision in a contract, will, or other agreement, whether written or oral, that would determine whether an individual may make or rescind a request under this chapter is valid.

(2) No obligation owing under any existing contract may be conditioned or affected by an individual's act of making or rescinding a request under this chapter.

(3) It is unlawful for an insurer to deny or alter health care benefits otherwise available to an individual with a terminal disease based on the availability of medical aid in dying or to otherwise attempt to coerce an individual with a terminal disease to make a request for medical aid-in-dying medication.

156.31 Insurance or annuity policies. (1) The sale, procurement, or issuance of a life, health, or accident insurance policy, or an annuity policy, or the rate charged for a policy may not be conditioned upon or affected by an individual's act of making or rescinding a request for medication under this chapter.

(2) A qualified individual's act of self-administering medication under this chapter does not invalidate any part of a life, health, or accident insurance policy, or an annuity policy.

(3) An insurance plan, including the Medical Assistance program under subch. IV of ch. 49, may not deny or alter benefits to an individual with a terminal disease who is a covered beneficiary of an insurance plan based on the availability of medical aid in dying, the individual's request for medication under this chapter, or the absence of a request for medication under this chapter. Failure to meet this requirement shall constitute a violation of the insurance code of this state.

156.33 Death certificate. (1) Unless otherwise prohibited by law, an attending provider or a hospice medical director may sign the death certificate of a qualified individual who obtained and self-administered a prescription for medication under this chapter.
(2) When a death has occurred in accordance with this chapter, the death shall be attributed to the underlying terminal disease.

(3) A death following self-administering medication under this chapter does not alone constitute grounds for post-mortem inquiry.

(4) A death in accordance with this chapter may not be designated as suicide or homicide.

(5) A qualified individual’s act of self-administering medication prescribed under this chapter may not be indicated on the individual’s death certificate.

(6) A coroner may conduct a preliminary investigation to determine whether an individual received a prescription for medication under this chapter.

156.35 Liabilities and penalties. (1) Intentionally or knowingly altering or forging an individual’s request for medication under this chapter or concealing or destroying a rescission of a request for medication under this chapter is a Class F felony.

(2) Intentionally or knowingly coercing or exerting undue influence on an individual with a terminal disease to request or use medication under this chapter is a Class F felony.

(3) Nothing in this chapter limits civil liability nor damages arising from negligent conduct or intentional misconduct, including failure to obtain informed consent by any person, provider, or health care facility.

(4) The penalties specified in this chapter do not preclude criminal penalties applicable under other laws for conduct inconsistent with this chapter.

(5) For purposes of this chapter, “intentionally” and “knowingly” have the meaning under s. 939.23.
SENATE BILL 1013

SECTION 1

156.37 Claims by governmental entity for costs incurred. Any governmental entity that incurs costs resulting from self-administration of medication prescribed under this chapter in a public place has a claim against the estate of the qualified individual to recover those costs and, notwithstanding s. 814.04 (1), reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred in enforcing the claim.

156.39 Construction. (1) Nothing in this chapter authorizes a provider or any other person, including a qualified individual, to end the qualified individual’s life by intravenous or other parenteral injection or infusion, mercy killing, homicide, murder, manslaughter, euthanasia, or any other criminal act.

(2) Actions taken in accordance with this chapter do not, for any purposes, constitute suicide, assisted suicide, euthanasia, mercy killing, homicide, murder, manslaughter, elder abuse or neglect, or any other civil or criminal violation under the law.

SECTION 2. 979.01 (1j) of the statutes is created to read:

979.01 (1j) Subsection (1) does not apply to a death that results from taking medication under a fulfilled request for medication that meets the requirements of ch. 156.

SECTION 3. Nonstatutory provisions.

(1) No later than 45 days after the effective date of this subsection, the department of health services shall create the checklist form and the follow up form required under s. 156.27 (1).

(1) This act takes effect on April 1, 2022, or the first day of the first month beginning after publication, whichever is later.
