Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

AB 661 makes changes to various town procedures. One of the proposed changes is to eliminate the travel exception from consideration in determining whether a highway has ceased to be a public highway.

The fiscal impact to local units of government is indeterminate because it is unknown how many highways municipal governing bodies have determined were not vacated due to travel. However, it is likely the provision will decrease costs for cities, villages, towns and counties by eliminating a requirement used to determine if a highway is still considered a public highway.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

None.
