Description academic and career planning services provided to pupils, requiring the reporting of certain data on college student costs and outcomes, and granting rule-making authority

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

This bill requires higher education institutions to report cost and student outcome data to high school junior and seniors relating to their undergraduate degree programs to the Higher Educational Aids Board (HEAB). In turn, HEAB must annually provide this information to the Department of Public Instruction with a list, prepared in cooperation with the Department of Workforce Development, of the 50 most in-demand jobs in this state, including starting salary and required education level for each job.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

A lot of the information required in this bill is already collected by the UW and is publicly available.

The increased costs associated with collecting and reporting the data not currently available cannot be determined until administrative rules are promulgated by HEAB.
