Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

State Impact: Indeterminate

Under this bill, the department will have to create a new, unique process for issuing this lifetime license to eligible applicants. However, implementation costs as a result of the bill are indeterminate because the department is not able to quantify the number of additional applicants compared to the number of applicants under current law. The additional costs would result from programming changes required to modify the ELO system to establish the processes that will allow DPI to operationalize the law change (i.e., not necessarily ongoing additional costs).

Long-Range Fiscal Implications
