PART 1
Analysis Prepared by the Wisconsin Department of Transportation

Statutes interpreted: s. 348.27(15), Stats., as created by 2007 Wis. Act 171

Statutory authority: ss. 348.25(3) and (4)(intro.) and 348.27(15)(d), Stats.

Explanation of agency authority: The Department is authorized to administer statutes and administrative rules related to vehicle weights, widths, heights, and lengths. Nonstatutory provisions created in 2007 Wis. Act 171, section 6, require the Department to promulgate rules implementing a newly-created multiple trip permit for transporting granular roofing materials by not later than August 1, 2008.

Related statute or rule: Chapter 348, Stats., and Chapters Trans 250 to 278, Wis. Admin. Code.

Plain language analysis: This proposed rule is required by 2007 Wis. Act 171, section 6. The new law creates a multiple trip permit for certain overweight vehicles or vehicle combinations transporting granular roofing materials. The law establishes certain conditions for the permit and certain limitations on operation.

This proposed rule implements those conditions and limitations:

- The permit allows excess gross weight of 10,000 pounds, but not to exceed 90,000 pounds.
- The permit requires that the motor carrier on whose behalf the load is transported be named in the permit.
- The permit requires a named origin, destination, and designated route of travel.
- The permit requires that any municipality or county whose highways make up any part of the designated route pass a resolution allowing that transport, and requires the permit applicant to submit copies of all resolutions to the department along with the permit application.

The proposed rule defines "granular roofing material" in order to make eligibility for permit and enforcement clear and uniform.

The proposed rule states that the permit is not valid on the interstate highway system, and is valid on not more than 2.5 miles of the state trunk highway system.

Summary of, and Preliminary Comparison with, Existing or Proposed Federal Regulation: Federal law governs overweight transport on certain federal highways, including general prohibition of divisible overweight loads on the interstate highway system. Pursuant to 23 U.S.C. section 127 and 23 C.F.R. section 658, divisible overweight loads are not allowed on the interstate highway system. 2007 Wis. Act 171 provides that a permit under this law may be issued for up to 2.5 miles on any state trunk highway if such issuance of the permit is consistent with federal law. This proposed rule is consistent with federal law because 2007 Wis. Act 171 authorizes permits for this type of divisible load and transport is not allowed on the interstate highway system.

Comparison with Rules in Adjacent States:

Michigan: Michigan has no rule or statute authorizing overweight loads of granular roofing materials, or similar divisible overweight loads.

Minnesota: Minnesota has no rule or statute authorizing overweight loads of granular roofing materials, or similar divisible overweight loads.

Illinois: Illinois has no rule or statute authorizing overweight loads of granular roofing materials, or similar divisible overweight loads.

Iowa: Iowa has no rule or statute authorizing overweight loads of granular roofing materials, or similar divisible overweight loads.

Summary of Factual Data and Analytical Methodologies Used and How the Related Findings Support the Regulatory Approach Chosen: This proposed rule implements a newly-enacted law. The Department's implementation of the law, including policies, procedures, and requirements, is the same as the Department applies to all similar multiple trip permits.

Effect on Small Business and, If Applicable, Any Analysis and Supporting Documentation Used to Determine Effect on Small Businesses: This proposed rule implements 2007 Wis. Act 171. The law will allow all businesses, including small businesses, to transport granular roofing materials at weights exceeding state load limits. This would have a beneficial effect on small businesses. The Department's Regulatory Review Coordinator may be contacted by e-mail at ralph.sanders@dot.state.wi.us, or by calling (414) 438-4585.

Fiscal effect: The Department estimates that there will be no fiscal impact on the liabilities or revenues of any county, city, village, town, school district, vocational, technical and adult education district, sewerage district, or federally-recognized tribes or bands.

Anticipated costs incurred by private sector: The Department estimates that there will be no fiscal impact on state or private sector revenues or liabilities.

Agency contact person and copies of proposed rule: Copies of the proposed rule may be obtained, without cost, by writing to Carson Frazier, Department of Transportation, Bureau of Vehicle Services, Room 255, P. O. Box 7911, Madison, WI 53707-7911. You may also contact Ms. Frazier by phone at (608) 266-7857 or via e-mail: carson.frazier@dot.state.wi.us.

(a) Basis and Purpose of Rule. This proposed rule is required by 2007 Wis. Act 171, section 6. The new law creates a multiple trip permit for certain overweight vehicles or vehicle combinations transporting granular roofing materials. The law establishes certain conditions for the permit and certain limitations on operation.

(b) Modifications as a Result of Testimony at Public Hearing. The public hearing was held in Madison on July 30, 2008. No modifications were made as a result of testimony at the hearing.

(c) List of Persons who Appeared or Registered at Public Hearing. The following individual spoke for information and in favor of the proposed rule:

Jason Bauknecht, Transportation Clerk for Representative Petrowski's office, Madison, WI.

(d) Summary of Public Comments and Agency Response to those Comments: There were no written or oral comments relating to this rule, except for a statement of support by Mr. Bauknecht on behalf of Representative Petrowski.

(e) Explanation of any Changes Made to the Plain Language Analysis or Fiscal Estimate: No changes made.

(f) Response to Legislative Council Recommendations. The Legislative Council Clearinghouse report contained a few recommendations. All of these recommendations have been incorporated into the proposed rule, except for one. The Rules Clearinghouse suggested that the definition of "granular roofing materials" in s. Trans 263.02(1) should be revised by removing language relating to the transport of these materials "...from a mine to a processing plant where the product is processed or stored for sale..." The Rules Clearinghouse suggested that it would be preferable to move this language to a substantive section of the rule. The Department believes this language to be an integral part of the definition of granular roofing materials and is more appropriately included within the definition. No one has complained about this definition or requested that it be revised, and the Department believes this indicates general acceptance of this definition. Although the definition does contain substantive requirements, it is similar to other oversize/overweight definitions in related statutes and administrative rules. Compare with the definitions of "double-decked bus" in Wis. Stat. s. 348.01(2)(at), and the definition of "raw forest products" in Wis. Stat. s. 348.01(2)(bt); and with the definitions of "recyclable-scrap" in s. Trans 269.02(2)(d) and "self-compactor equipped vehicle" in s. Trans 269.02(2)(f).

(g) Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis. This proposed rule implements 2007 Wis. Act 171. The law will allow all businesses, including small businesses, to transport granular roofing materials at weights exceeding state load limits. This would have a beneficial effect on small businesses.
