Final Draft
PROPOSED ORDER OF THE STATE OF WISCONSIN
OFFICE OF THE STATE PUBLIC DEFENDER
ADOPTING RULES
(Wis. Admin. Code Chapter PD 1 Certification)

The Wisconsin State Public Defender Board proposes an order to repeal PD 1.05 (1) and PD 1.06, to renumber and amend PD 1.03, to amend PD 1.03 (title), PD 1.05 (2), (3), and (6), PD 1.07 and PD 1.08, to repeal and recreate PD 1.035 and PD 1.04, and to create PD 1.03 (2), PD 1.03 (3), PD 1.03 (4), PD 1.03 (5), PD 1.037 and PD 1.075, relating to the certification of private bar attorneys to accept appointments to provide legal representation for state public defender clients.

Statutes Interpreted

Sections 977.02 (5) and (6), 977.03 (3), 977.05 (4) and (5), and 977.08 (1) to (3), Stats.

Statutory Authority

Sections 977.02 (5), (6) and (8), and 977.03 (3), Stats.

Explanation of Agency Authority

Sections 977.05 (4) and (5) and 977.08 (1) require the state public defender to appoint attorneys to represent indigent clients in specified cases. Section 977.08 (2) and (3) require the state public defender to notify all attorneys that they may be appointed to provide legal representation to state public defender clients, to review the qualifications of attorneys seeking appointment, and to certify lists of attorneys qualified to accept appointments. Section 977.02 (5) allows the state public defender board to promulgate rules that establish procedures to assure that the legal representation of indigent clients by the private bar at the initial stages of cases assigned under ch. 977 is at the same level as the representation provided by the state public defender. Section 977.02 (6) allows the state public defender board to establish rules to accommodate the handling of certain potential conflict of interest cases by the office of the state public defender. Section 977.03 (3) allows the state public defender board to promulgate rules to establish procedures under which the state public defender may appoint attorneys based upon the state public defender's evaluation of the attorneys' performance. Section 977.02 (8) allows the state public defender board to perform all other duties necessary and incidental to the performance of any duty enumerated in ch. 977, Stats.

Plain Language Analysis

The ethical rules in Supreme Court Rules Chap. 20, Rules of Professional Conduct for Attorneys, prohibit conflicts of interest and require zealous representation. Consequently, the state public defender appoints some cases to private attorneys who are not employees. Because the state public defender does not have direct oversight of the legal representation provided in these cases, the state public defender uses other means, including certification lists, to ensure that the private attorneys are competent to represent clients in different types of cases.

These rules modify certification criteria and procedures to:

- Update the certification lists to reflect changes in substantive and procedural law.
- Permit the state public defender to exercise discretion to certify, recertify, sanction, suspend, caution, place conditions upon or decertify a private attorney for cause.
- Establish criteria for the exercise of discretion.
- Permit the state public defender to consider an attorney's prior disciplinary record and other conduct, in addition to experience and education, when making certification decisions.
- Require an attorney to reapply for certification after decertification or voluntary removal from any certification list.
- Permit the state public defender to require a period of provisional certification to allow the state public defender to monitor the representation provided to clients.
- Permit the state public defender to suspend case appointments to an attorney pending an investigation into performance or billing.
- Permit the state public defender to disclose information about an investigation after the investigation is concluded.

Summary of, and Comparison with, Existing or Proposed Federal Regulations

There are no existing or proposed federal regulations that address the activities of the proposed rules.

Comparisons with Rules in Adjacent States

Illinois

Appointment: Appeals are appointed by the appellate court to the State Appellate Defender. Trial court judges appoint the local public defender office.

Certification/Standards for Private Attorneys: Appellate cases: An attorney licensed to practice law in Illinois who has prior criminal appellate experience or an attorney who is a member or employee of a law firm which has at least one member with that experience may submit a bid to the State Appellate Defender to receive cases. Prospective bidders must furnish legal writing samples that are deemed acceptable to the State Appellate Defender. Trial cases: No written qualifications and standards or on-going legal education requirements were found.

Iowa

Appointment: Appellate courts appoint the State Appellate Defender. At the trial court level, the State Public Defender files a notice with a district court clerk in each county served by the public defender designating which local public defender office shall receive notice of appointment of cases. This designee shall be appointed by the court to represent all the eligible indigents in all of the cases and proceedings specified in the designation. The State Public Defender may notify the trial court that the public defender designee will not provide legal representation in certain cases. The State Public Defender may contract with private attorneys and nonprofit organizations for the provision of legal services to indigent persons.

Certification/Standards for Private Attorneys: The State Public Defender may confer with judges, attorneys and others having knowledge about the attorney's competence, effectiveness, trustworthiness and ability to provide services. Also, the State Public Defender may conduct additional investigation as deemed warranted. The information received may be considered when deciding to award an initial contract or renew a contract for legal services with a private attorney.

Michigan

Appointment: Appellate courts determine eligibility and appoint the State Appellate Defender Office to cases. The trial courts determine eligibility and appoint local public defense agencies to represent the indigent.

Certification/Standards for Private Attorneys: The State Appellate Defender Office has initial qualification requirements and on-going training requirements. The trial courts vary by county as to qualifications and on-going training requirements. For example, Wayne County (Detroit) appoints the Legal Aid and Defender of Detroit and does not appear to have published qualification standards or on-going training requirements for private attorneys who wish to be appointed to public defender cases. Oakland County (Pontiac) inquires about criminal law experience and education and requests the names of judges and attorneys for references as part of the initial qualification. Also, Oakland County requires private attorneys to agree to attend on-going training related to criminal law. Macomb County (Mt. Clemons) has an Indigent Assignment List Selection Committee that reviews attorney applications and assigns attorneys to a level. An attorney must apply to this Committee to move to a higher level. Also, Macomb County requires annual training of one continuing legal education credit or three mini-seminars relating to criminal law.

Minnesota

Appointment: The trial and appellate courts appoint cases. The trial court judge appoints the district public defenders' offices in the jurisdiction in which the charge is filed. There are ten judicial districts in Minnesota. The district public defender cannot be required to make the eligibility determination or investigate the availability of assets. If a conflict of interest or other situation exists, the court can appoint to private attorneys who have contracts for appointments with the district public defender's office.

Certification/Standards for Private Attorneys: The Chief Public Defender in each of the districts reviews the qualifications of a private attorney who applies for a contract to accept appointments of public defender cases. There are no published standards for that review.
