WISCONSIN EARNED RELEASE REVIEW COMMISSION PROPOSED RULE MAKING ORDER

Introductory Clause

The Wisconsin Earned Release Review Commission (formerly the Parole Commission) proposes an order to repeal and recreate chapter PAC 1, relating to the release of inmates from state prison through parole or other procedures established through 2009 Wis. Act 28.

Rule Summary

- A. Statutes interpreted: s. 302.1135, Stats, as created by 2009 WI Act 28, ss. 2729j – 2738 and 2739d – 2739j, and ch. 304, Stats., and s. 304.06 (1) (bg) 1., 2., 3., and 4., as created by 2009 WI Act 28, s. 2751
- B. Statutory authority to promulgate the rule: ss. 227.11 (2), 304.06 (1) (c), and 304.06 (1) (em), Stats.
- C. Explanation of agency authority:

The Earned Release Review Commission (formerly the Parole Commission) has the authority to promulgate rules which govern its procedures for considering inmate petitions for release. This rule updates the current rule (PAC 1) to reflect changes in procedures, practice, and the law.

Under s. 302.1135, Stats, as created by 2009 WI Act 28, ss. 2729j – 2738 and 2739d – 2739j, the Earned Release Review Commission (formerly the Parole Commission) has the authority to consider inmate petitions for release due to age or extraordinary health condition. This rule sets forth the procedure which the ERRC will follow in reviewing these petitions.

Under s. 304.06 (1) (bg) 1. and 2., as created by 2009 WI Act 28, s. 2751, the Earned Release Review Commission has the authority to consider inmate petitions requesting release to extended supervision after having served the term of confinement of his or her bifurcated sentence less positive adjustment time he or she has earned. This rule sets forth the procedure which the ERRC will follow in reviewing these petitions.

Under s. 304.06 (1) (bg) 3. and 4., as created by 2009 WI Act 28, s. 2751, the Earned Release Review Commission has the authority to consider inmate petitions requesting release to extended supervision after having served either 75% or 85% of his or her term of confinement, depending on the offense for which the inmate was sentenced. This rule sets forth the procedure which the ERRC will follow in reviewing these petitions.

- D. Related statute or rule:

Section 302.1135, Stats, as created by 2009 WI Act 28, ss. 2729j – 2738 and 2739d – 2739j

- E. Plain language analysis:

The Rule:

1. Revises s. PAC 1.02, Purpose, to more clearly state the purpose of the rule chapter is to set forth the procedures under which the Earned Release Review Commission (formerly Parole Commission) operates.
2. Updated terminology and phrasing throughout the rule to reflect the responsibility of the commission for parole and other release mechanisms under 2009 Act 28.
3. Added definitions for the following terms: denial, extended supervision, extraordinary health condition, file review, informational deferral, no action, and presumptive mandatory release.
4. Moved the definition of "direct input," which had previously been in s. PAC 1.06 (9) (c) to the definition section.
5. Modified the term "member of the family" to "family member" and included domestic partners under ch. 770, Stats., in the definition of covered persons.
6. Modified definitions to include reference to 2009 Act 29 release mechanisms. Specifically, "parole grant" became "parole grant or release order," and "parole eligible" became "parole or release eligible," and "parole consideration" became "release consideration."
7. Clarified the purpose of release consideration in s. PAC 1.04.
8. Modified s. PAC 1.05 to address the commission's authority to consider parole eligibility or release eligibility for inmates depending on the date on which the offense for which they were convicted was committed, including those eligible for early release to extended supervision.
9. Modified s. PAC 1.06 to more clearly state the process by which the commission will consider an inmate for release. Also, included are the additional criteria noted in 2009 Act 28, specifically the inmate has not refused or neglected to perform required or assigned duties. Clarified the criteria used to evaluate participation in required or recommended programming. Finally, deleted the listing of specific offenses which require giving a victim the opportunity for direct input. The commission gives victims who are registered with the Office of Victims Services an opportunity for direct input in all cases.
10. Modified s. PAC 1.07 to include the process for release recommendations for inmates sentenced for offenses committed on or after December 31, 1999. In addition, clarified the authority of a commissioner to amend a deferral or denial.
11. Added to s. PAC 1.07 the authority and the procedures of the commission to modify an inmate's bifurcated sentence in accordance with s. 304.06 (1) (bk) 1., Stats.
12. Created s. PAC 1.08 to establish procedures for the commission to review inmate petitions for release due to extraordinary health condition or age.
13. Created s. PAC 1.09 to establish procedures for the commission to review inmates who are subject to presumptive mandatory release.

F. Summary of and comparison with existing or proposed federal regulations that are intended to address the activities to be regulated by the proposed rule:

There are no federal regulations which address the procedures for parole or release consideration in Wisconsin.

G. Comparison of similar rules in adjacent states (Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, and Minnesota):

1. Illinois: The rules of the Illinois Prisoner Review Board (IPRB) are found in 20 Ill. Adm. Code ss. 1610.10 - 1610.180. Like the ERRC the IPRB notifies the inmate in advance of the parole consideration hearing that the hearing has been scheduled and gives inmates access to the evidence to be considered by the IPRB prior to the hearing. Like the ERRC the purpose of the IPRB hearings is to gather information to determine whether release should occur. The IPRB rules specifically state that the hearings are not adversarial. However, an IL inmate has an attorney present at his or her own expense. The ERRC does not permit an attorney to be present, except for hearings on petitions for release due to extraordinary health condition or age.

The IPRB rules set forth a more detailed list of criteria to be considered for release. However, the ERRC listing covers all of the same issues for consideration. The IPRB requires a decision to be made within 7 days of the hearing. There is no comparable timeframe for the ERRC. The IPRB rules provide for a hearing in cases where the IPRB is considering rescinding a grant of parole. The hearing process appears to be comparable to the process used for an initial hearing. In the current rule the hearing on the decision to rescind is a full hearing before an administrative law judge from the Division of Hearings and Appeals, including the opportunity to confront and cross examine witnesses. In the proposed rule the ERRC has removed the opportunity for a hearing on the issue of rescission. Unlike the ERRC the IPRB provides the opportunity for rehearing.

2. Iowa: The rules of the Board of Parole are found in IA 205 chapters 1-8, most specifically IA-ADC 205-8.1, et seq. The agency responsible for making parole and work release determinations is the Iowa Parole Board (Board). The Board is responsible for assessing the risk of each inmate committed to the custody of the IA DOC. Inmates are not eligible for parole if they are serving a mandatory minimum sentence under IC s. 902.11. The Board reviews an inmate annually for parole consideration. If an interview is to be conducted, the Board gives the inmate notice. Factors which are to be considered in parole decisions are: previous criminal record, nature and circumstances of the offense, recidivism record, convictions or behavior indicating a propensity for violence, participation in institutional programs, including academic and vocational training, psychiatric and psychological evaluations, length of time served, evidence of serious or habitual institutional misconduct, success or failure while on probation, prior parole or work release history, prior refusal to accept parole or work release, history of drug or alcohol use, a parole plan formulated by the inmate, general attitude and behavior while incarcerated, and risk assessment. The Board may request that a psychiatric or psychological evaluation be done on an inmate to assist in its determination. Information considered by the Board will normally be made available to the inmate for review. Like the ERRC the Board can conduct an interview and/or a case review when considering release. IA parole proceedings are open to the public, except as "otherwise necessary or proper." If a person from the public attends, that person may not participate in the proceedings. The number of persons other than the inmate and institution staff who may attend may be limited by the Board. The Board has extensive rules on the conduct of the media during parole proceedings. The Board rules incorporate actual risk assessment scores into its evaluation of whether an inmate is suitable for parole. Depending on the score and an assessment of whether the inmate can be released without detriment to the community or to the inmate, the Board may grant the parole if at least 3 members agree for risk assessment scores of 1 through 6, if at least 4 members agree for scores of 7 or 8, and if the Board is unanimous for a score of 9. The Board may grant an inmate parole at any time following successful completion of work release. Successful completion is a defined concept.
3. Michigan: The authority for the Michigan Parole Board (Board) is found in MCLA 791.231a, et seq., and MI ADC R. 791.7715, et seq. Like Wisconsin, the Board may parole an inmate once the inmate has served a minimum term imposed by the sentencing court less allowances for good time. Michigan prohibits release before the inmate has served the minimum term, despite the earning of good time for certain enumerated crimes, including those sentenced to an indeterminate sentence, controlled or counterfeit substance offenses, and habitual offender. Factors to be considered in making a parole decision include: the offense for which the inmate is incarcerated, the inmate's institutional conduct, program performance, prior criminal record, and other relevant factors; also, the inmate's statistical risk screening and age. The Board may grant a parole without interviewing the inmate if after evaluating the inmate the Board determines that the inmate has a high probability of being paroled and the Board intends to parole the inmate. The Board is required to give the inmate 1 month notice of the parole interview, including date and issues and concerns to be discussed during the interview. An inmate may waive the right to an interview before one Board member. The inmate may have a representative of his choice but the representative may not be another inmate or an attorney. There is no right to the appointment of public counsel. Institution staff prepares a parole eligibility report which includes misconduct reports, institution work and education record, health and mental health examination results, and cooperation with the payment of financial obligations. If the Board denies parole, the inmate shall be given a written explanation for the denial and, if appropriate, specific recommendations for corrective action. The Board may amend or rescind a parole decision for cause before the inmate is released on parole. However, at least one member of the Board must conduct an interview with the inmate for the purpose of considering and acting upon information received after the original parole release decision. A parole order may be amended but is not effective until the inmate is given written notice of the amendment. The Board sets the conditions of parole and the amount of the supervision fees to be collected during the period of supervision. In the administrative rules, the Board may consider the inmate's criminal behavior, institutional adjustment, readiness for release, the inmate's personal history and growth, the inmate's physical and mental health. If an inmate is being considered for parole, the inmate shall receive a psychological or psychiatric evaluation before release if the inmate has been hospitalized for mental illness in the last 2 years, has a history of predatory or assaultive sexual offenses, or has serious or persistent history of assaultiveness within the institution. Inmates are evaluated for a parole guideline score which is based on a combination of the length of the time the inmate has been incarcerated for the offense and other listed factors.

4. Minnesota: The State of Minnesota does not have a separate Parole Board. The entity which grants paroles and work release is called the executive officer of hearings and release, who has been delegated this authority by the commissioner of corrections. The relevant provisions can be found in MN ADC chapter 2940 [MN ADC 2940.0100, et seq.]. Prior to a reentry review, an inmate is given notice of the date and time of the review. The notice must include the purpose of the review, the material to be covered and the right to review documents which will be considered as part of the review. The inmate may submit written documentation and appear and speak on his or her own behalf during the hearing. Institution discipline may cause an inmate to lose good time or extend a term of incarceration. For inmates with life sentences, there is an advisory panel which is comprised of the deputy commissioner for institutions, the deputy commission for community services, the superintendent or warden of the inmate's current residence, and the executive officer of the hearings and release unit and whose duties is to review each inmate 3 years before the inmate's parole or supervised release eligibility date in order to establish a projected release date or future review date. The panel shall assist the commissioner of corrections in considering the inmate's case history, including the facts and circumstances of the offense for which the life sentence is being served, past criminal history, institutional adjustment, program team reports, psychological and psychiatric reports where pertinent, and the results of community investigations.

- H. Summary of the factual data and analytical methodologies that ERRC used in support of its determination of the rule's fiscal effect on small businesses under s. 227.114, Stats.:

The Earned Release Review Commission has determined that the rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small businesses since the rule does not regulate small businesses as that term is defined in § 227.114, Stats.

(2) Risk to the community; and

(3) Reasonable certainty of a crime-free reintegration of the inmate into society.

PAC 1.05 Eligibility for release consideration. (1) INITIAL ELIGIBILITY. The commission shall not consider for parole or release to extended supervision any person who is sentenced to the department's custody until the person has been confined at least 60 days following sentencing.

(2) PAROLE ELIGIBILITY. (a) For persons sentenced for offenses committed on or before December 31, 1999, the Chairperson may waive the 25% service of sentence requirement under s. 304.06 (1) (b), Stats., if the chairperson determines that extraordinary circumstances warrant an earlier parole consideration and the sentencing court, district attorney, and the victim, if available, have been notified and permitted to comment upon the proposed recommendation.

(4) WAIVER OF RELEASE CONSIDERATION. An inmate may waive release consideration at any time by notifying the commission in writing through institution staff. No review or decision will occur. A waiver will not effect future commission decisions

(5) WITHDRAWAL OF CONSIDERATION. If an inmate declines to appear before the commission at the time of a scheduled interview or appears but refuses to participate, the failure to appear or participate, unless excused by the commission, shall be construed as a withdrawal of parole consideration. No review or decision will occur. A withdrawal will not effect future parole decisions.

(6) RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF ELIGIBILITY FOR CONSIDERATION. To become eligible for release consideration following a waiver or withdrawal, the inmate shall apply in writing to the commission through institution staff. The eligibility date shall be established in accordance with the inmate's sentence structure. An interview will be scheduled based on the new eligibility date.

PAC 1.06 Release consideration. (1) For persons sentenced for offenses that occurred on or before December 31, 1999, the initial release consideration shall be scheduled during the month prior to the date of first statutory eligibility for parole, unless waived in writing by the inmate, the inmate is not available, in which case the commissioner will set a new interview date, or the inmate has been transferred after which an interview will be scheduled as soon as practicable.

(2) For persons sentenced under s. 973.01, Stats., the inmate will be scheduled for release consideration prior to the earliest eligibility date established under s. 304.06 (1) (bg), Stats.

(3) Release consideration for persons whom the commission has deferred shall be scheduled according to the new eligibility date.

(4) The institution responsible for scheduling release consideration shall give the inmate at least a 15-day written notice of the interview, except following an informational deferral, in which case subsequent notification is not required. When notification is not timely, the inmate may waive the 15-day requirement. If the inmate does not waive, consideration will be postponed until notice can be given. The notice of consideration for release shall address the criteria under sub. (15).

(5) The chairperson may assign one or more commissioners to conduct a release consideration interview.

(6) The inmate shall have access to the documentary information which the commissioner considered, except information determined to be confidential may not be disclosed. An inmate shall have access to records at the correctional institution where the inmate is confined.

(7) During the release consideration interview, the inmate shall be afforded the opportunity to provide information that is relevant, material, and not unduly repetitious, including the opportunity to comment on perceived errors of material fact in the record.

(8) The commissioner's decision shall be based on information available, including file material, victim's statements if applicable, and any other relevant information.

(9) A deferral greater than 12 months requires the written approval of the chairperson.

(10) The interview shall be recorded. A transcript shall be prepared only upon an order of the court which has granted a petition for judicial review of the decision.

(11) Release consideration may occur without the inmate present when one of the following circumstances occurs: (a) The inmate had an interview within the preceding 12 months; or

(b) It is not practicable to arrange for an interview within the timeframe for considering release and the interest of justice as well as that of the inmate would best be served by a file review.

(12) If release consideration occurs under sub. (11) without the inmate being present, the inmate may request an interview in writing through institution staff. The commission may grant the request.

(13) Representation by legal counsel during the interview for release consideration shall not be permitted, except for extraordinary health conditions under s. PAC 1.08.

(14) Interpretive services shall be provided for an inmate in order to facilitate effective communication.

(15) Release consideration is specifically exempt from open meeting legislation under s. 19.85 (1) (d), Stats., and shall be closed to the public. However, upon request, and with the approval of the chairperson, persons with a civic, academic, or professional interest in the release consideration process may be allowed to observe individual proceedings. Observers shall not be allowed if the inmate objects.

(16) A recommendation for release or a grant or order of release may be made after consideration of all the following criteria:

(a) The inmate has become parole eligible under s. 304.06, Stats., and s. PAC 1.05

(b) The inmate has served sufficient time so that release would not depreciate the seriousness of the offense

(c) The inmate has demonstrated satisfactory adjustment to the institution.

(d) The inmate has not refused or neglected to perform required or assigned duties.

(e) The inmate has participated in and has demonstrated sufficient efforts in required or recommended programs which have been made available by demonstrating one of the following:

1. The inmate has gained maximum benefit from programs;

2. The inmate can complete programming in the community without presenting an undue risk;
or

3. The inmate has not been able to gain entry into programming.

(f) The inmate has developed an adequate release plan.

(g) The inmate is subject to a sentence of confinement in another state or is in the United States illegally and may be deported.

(h) The inmate has reached a point at which the commission concludes that release would not pose an unreasonable risk to the public and would be in the interest of justice.

(17) The commission shall provide an opportunity for a victim to provide direct input and to attend the interview.

(18) The commission shall permit any office or person to submit a written statement for consideration in its decision-making process.

PAC 1.07 Commission recommendations. (1) After consideration, a commissioner may recommend release with or without special conditions, or may deny release and defer consideration for a specified period of time. The commissioner shall make the recommendation of release to the chairperson. If release is denied, the commissioner shall establish a date for reconsideration under sub. PAC 1.06 (3), unless the inmate will reach the mandatory release date or the extended supervision date prior to that reconsideration date.

(2) The inmate shall be advised in writing of the decision to defer or to recommend a grant of parole or release, the reasons for the decision and the next opportunity for consideration or the recommended parole or release date.

(3) A commissioner may refer the case to the full commission for a decision. When the chairperson makes a final decision, the inmate shall be notified of the decision in writing and may request an interview with the commissioner through institution staff.

(4) If the chairperson disagrees with a recommendation of the commissioner, the chairperson shall inform the inmate in writing the reason for amending the recommendation.

(5) For persons sentenced under s. 973.01, Stats., if the chairperson approves a recommendation for release, the commission shall notify the sentencing court in accordance with s. 304.06 (1) (bk) 1., Stats., of its intent to modify the inmate's sentence and release the inmate to extended supervision or another case, sentence or count. The commission shall provide the sentencing court with justification for its recommendation. If the court does not schedule a review hearing within 30 days after notification, the commission will proceed with the action recommended. The commission shall issue an order for sentence modification. The term of confinement in the prison portion of the inmate's sentence will be reduced by the period of release and the term of extended supervision of the inmate's sentence will be lengthened by the period of release so that the total length of the sentence as originally imposed by the court will remain unchanged.

(6) A commissioner may withdraw a recommendation for release prior to the issuance of the grant of parole or order for release.

(7) A commissioner may amend a deferral or denial.

(8) If there is a change in circumstances, requiring a denial of the grant or order, subsequent to the issuance of a parole grant or release order but prior to release, the inmate shall be provided written notice of the reasons for rescission and a summary of the evidence supporting the reasons for rescission. The inmate shall be given an opportunity to appear and be heard by an impartial hearing examiner from the division of hearings and appeals in the department of administration. At the hearing the inmate shall be given the right to present witnesses and evidence which are material, relevant, and not unduly repetitious, the right to confront and cross-examine witnesses against the inmate, the right to receive a written statement of the evidence relied upon, and the right to be represented by counsel. After a review of the findings of fact, conclusions of law, and recommendation of the hearing examiner, the chairperson shall make a final decision.

(9) For persons sentenced for offenses committed on or before December 31, 1999, the chairperson may grant or deny parole at any time, if extraordinary circumstances affecting an inmate are documented and verified.

PAC 1.08 Extraordinary health condition release. (1) Eligibility. An inmate serving a bifurcated sentence imposed under s. 973.01, Stats., or, notwithstanding s. 973.014 (1g) (a) or (2), Stats., serving a life sentence imposed under s. 973.014, Stats., may petition the commission for modification of the inmate's sentence to be released to extended supervision if the inmate meets one of the following eligibility criteria:

- (a) The inmate is 65 years of age or older and has served at least 5 years in prison;
- (b) The inmate is 60 years of age or older and has served at least 10 years in prison; or
- (c) The inmate has an extraordinary health condition.

(2) Right to representation. An inmate who is eligible to petition for modification of the sentence under this section has a right to be represented by counsel in proceedings under this section. An inmate or the department on the inmate's behalf, may apply to the state public defender for determination of indigency and appointment of counsel under s. 977.05 (4) (jm), Stats., before or after the filing of the petition.

(3) Petition. An inmate who files a petition for release under this section shall include the following in support of his or her petition:

- (a) Date of birth;
- (b) Dates of incarceration for current sentence;
- (c) Affidavits of 2 physicians, as defined under s. 448.01 (5), Stats., who practice in this state setting forth the inmate's diagnosis, medical condition, including physical or mental limitations or disabilities, treatment, and prognosis if the inmate is alleging that he or she has an extraordinary health condition. One of the affidavits shall be from the inmate's current attending physician.
- (d) Other information as required by the commissioner.

(4) Hearing. (a) Upon receipt of a petition from an inmate, the commission shall review the petition to determine if the inmate is eligible for consideration under sub. (1). If the inmate meets one of the criteria for review, the commission shall schedule the petition for hearing to determine whether the public interest would be served by a modification of the inmate's sentence under s. 302.1135, Stats. The commission may seek additional information regarding the criterion which the inmate asserts as the basis of his or her eligibility for sentence modification under this section, including additional medical information.

(b) The commission shall notify in writing the inmate, the district attorney, any victims of the inmate's crime, the attorney representing the inmate, if applicable, the agent of record, the institution social worker, and the institution record office staff, of the date, time and location of the hearing. The commission will notify victims through the department's office of victim services. The notice of hearing shall be sent to the last-known address of the inmate's victim, postmarked at least 10 days before the date of the hearing.

(c) In advance of the hearing the commission may request from the agent or social worker additional information, including the inmate's release plan. If the inmate meets the criteria for review under ch. 980, Stats., the commission shall request the department to provide information concerning the inmate's status.

(d) The commissioner conducting the hearing shall review the inmate's social service and legal files prior to the hearing.

(e) The commission shall permit the inmate, the attorney representing the inmate, if applicable, the district attorney, and any victims of the inmate's crime to attend the hearing and give a written or oral statement regarding the inmate's petition for sentence modification, specifically addressing the issue of whether the public interest would be served by the modification. The commission may permit attendance at the hearing in person, by telephone, videoconferencing, or other virtual communication means. During the hearing the commission may request additional information.

(f) Information about the address of a victim will not be released or disclosed.

(g) The inmate has the burden of proving by the greater weight of the credible evidence that a modification of the sentence under this section would serve the public interest.

(h) The hearing shall be recorded.

(5) Decision. (a) Upon conclusion of the hearing, the commissioner conducting shall prepare a report for submission to the chairperson. The report shall contain a summary of the information provided at the hearing, including relevant documents, and a recommendation and the justification for the recommendation to approve or deny the petition.

(b) The commission may defer making a decision or hold a decision in abeyance in order to receive additional relevant information, including medical information. If additional information is received, the commission shall reconvene the hearing. Notice will be given to individuals who were present at the initial hearing. The hearing may be held in person, by telephone, videoconferencing or other virtual communication means at the discretion of the commission.

(c) The chairperson shall issue a decision on the petition based on the report and documents submitted by the commissioner.

1. If the petition is approved, the chairperson shall modify the sentence by establishing a new release date and give notice to the department. The department shall release the inmate to extended supervision within 30 days after the date on which the commission modified the sentence.
