Policy Problem Addressed by the Rule
Currently, a person licensed as a nurse in another state is prohibited from obtaining licensure as a registered nurse or licensed practical nurse through the endorsement process if there has ever been disciplinary action against their nurse license in any state. This rule will allow the Board of Nursing to evaluate the circumstances of the discipline and determine whether to license the individual.
Summary of Rule's Economic and Fiscal Impact on Specific Businesses, Business Sectors, Public Utility Rate Payers, Local Governmental Units and the State's Economy as a Whole (Include Implementation and Compliance Costs Expected to be Incurred)
There is no economic and fiscal impact.
Benefits of Implementing the Rule and Alternative(s) to Implementing the Rule
This rule allows the Board of Nursing to evaluate the circumstances of the discipline, including but not limited to, the nature of the conduct, length of time since the conduct occurred, the discipline imposed, and whether the disciplinary requirements have already been fulfilled. Implementing this rule would benefit the ability to facilitate qualified nurses to obtain licensure to work in our state. In addition, it promotes efficiency and fairness.
Long Range Implications of Implementing the Rule
The long range implication of implementing the rule would be an increase in the available workforce of qualified and competent nurses.
Compare With Approaches Being Used by Federal Government
None
Compare With Approaches Being Used by Neighboring States (Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Minnesota)
The rule would make Wisconsin's endorsement process consistent with our four neighboring states. All four neighboring states do not preclude an applicant with a disciplinary background from being licensed through endorsement. Each of the neighboring Boards of Nursing evaluate the circumstances surrounding the discipline and use their discretion in licensing decisions.
