

ORDER OF THE STATE OF WISCONSIN NATURAL RESOURCES BOARD
REPEALING, AMENDING, REPEALING AND RECREATING AND CREATING RULES

AM-05-09

Analysis Prepared by the Department of Natural Resources

1. Statute interpreted: Sections 227.11(2)(a), 285.11(1), Stats. The State Implementation Plan developed under s. 285.11(6), 285.60(6), and 285.67 Stats., is revised.

2. Statutory authority: Sections 227.11(2)(a), 285.11(1) and (16), 285.60(6), and 285.67, Stats.

3. Explanation of Agency Authority:

Section 227.11(2)(a), Stats., gives state agencies general rulemaking authority. Section 285.11(1), Stats., gives the Department authority to promulgate rules consistent with ch. 285, Stats. Section 285.11(6), Stats., gives the Department the authority to develop a state implementation plan for the control of air pollution. Section 285.11(16), Stats., requires the Department to promulgate rules, consistent with but no more restrictive than the federal clean air act, that specify the amounts of emissions that result in a stationary source being classified as a major source. Section 285.60(6) Stats., allows the Department to promulgate rules to exempt types of stationary sources from the requirement to get a construction permit, if the potential emissions from the sources do not present a significant hazard to public health, safety, welfare or to the environment. Section 285.67, Stats., requires the Department to promulgate rules establishing criteria and procedures for revising air pollution control permits.

4. Related statute or rule: Chapters NR 406, 407 and 409 relate directly to the permitting of activities that result in air emissions from stationary sources. Chapter NR 447 regulates asbestos emissions, but since permitting authority also regulates asbestos emissions the definition of asbestos is being added to Chapters NR 406 and 407. Chapter NR 439 relates directly to compliance demonstration for stationary sources.

5. Plain language analysis: The main objective of the proposed rule is to update permit language in chs. NR 406 and 407 regarding federal Generally Available Control Technology (GACT) rules for hazardous air pollutants. The current state rules do not exempt certain source categories from the need to obtain a construction or operation permit as is done on the federal level. Sources in Wisconsin potentially affected by this rule are bulk gasoline terminals, bulk gasoline plants, gasoline dispensing facilities (gas stations), pipeline facilities and wood preserving facilities.

Rules are also proposed that add biodiesel fuel, by definition, as an alternative clean fuel. Currently a permit modification for existing sources, or a construction permit for new sources, is required in order to burn it.

This proposal would also amend the time frame for submittal of operation permit renewal applications. Current rules require the application be submitted 12-18 months prior to the expiration of the operation permit. The Department proposes to change this deadline to no later than six months prior to the expiration of the operation permit to reflect updated statutory requirements in s. 285.66(3)(a), Stats. The only exception to this is that 40 CFR 70.5(a)(1)(iii) requires submittal to be in a 6-18 month window. Since the statutory change is different than this, a note will be added that refers to the Federal time frame.

Currently only selected portions of our rules require submittal of two copies of permit applications and related materials. The proposed rule would correct this inconsistency so that two copies are required in all cases. Additionally, language will be added to allow for electronic copies. Two copies are required as one is retained by the central office and one copy is sent to the appropriate regional office.

Other non-substantive changes are being proposed for consistency, to update outdated rule language and to provide clarification where needed.

6. Summary of, and comparison with, existing or proposed federal regulation: The changes to chs. NR 406 and 407, Wis. Adm. Code, are consistent with updates to federal rules, as referenced in Section 5. Chapters NR 407 and 409 are being changed as a result of a statutory change on the time frame for the submittal of an operation permit renewal application. The federal time frame for operation permit renewal applications requires that the application be submitted no later than six months prior to the expiration of the current operation permit for those permits that would be issued under 40 CFR part 70.5(a)(1)(iii) which is akin to Chapter NR 407. Other changes, to chs. 406, 407, 419 and 439 provide consistency within the rules by updating outdated language and providing clarification where appropriate. Chapter 484 is being amended to add an American Society of Testing and Materials (ASTM) method for the testing of bio-diesel fuels

7. Comparison with similar rules in adjacent states (Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Minnesota): All of the adjacent states manage an air construction and operation permit program.

The federal rules are effective nation-wide and the rules being proposed by the Department are similar to the federal rules except as mentioned in 6., above. Therefore, the portions of the proposed rules dealing with the GACT standard should be similar or identical to rules in effect in adjacent states that have similar programs.

8. Summary of factual data and analytical methodologies used and how any related findings support the regulatory approach chosen: Since the Department is proposing rules consistent with federal regulations, except for 6. above, and making consistency and clarification changes, the Department did not, with one exception, make use of any factual data or analytical methodologies in the rule development. That exception is the proposed amendment to ch. NR 484.

The only exception is the adding of biodiesel as a clean fuel. Based on emission information developed by EPA in “A Comprehensive Analysis of Biodiesel Impacts on Exhaust Emissions” (October 2002, <http://www.epa.gov/OMS/models/biodsl.htm>), emissions from the burning of biodiesel are less than those of distillate fuels, except for Nitrogen Oxides (NO_x). NO_x emissions are approximately 10% higher for a 20% blend of biodiesel and distillate fuels. Normally, biodiesel is not burned independently from other fuel types. By blending the fuels, existing burner design and fuel feed systems do not need to be altered. Emissions of hydrocarbons were reduced by 21.1%, particulate matter 10.1% and carbon monoxide 11.0%. Carbon dioxide emissions remained approximately the same. Biodiesel blended with distillate oil will be considered a clean fuel.

9. Analysis and supporting documents used to determine the effect on small business or in preparation of an economic impact report: An analysis of the effect of the proposed rules on small business was not performed since most of the changes are identical requirements that are already in effect at a federal level, and the Department is required by statute to adopt federal regulations or to develop similar standards. Preparation of an economic impact report has not been requested. Those proposed changes not based on federal regulations, were clarifying in nature or updates to old or outdated language in the rules.

10. Effect on small business: Because the proposed GACT rule changes for permitting sources of hazardous air pollutants may result in a limited number of sources becoming subject to federal operation permit requirements, some small businesses may be required to report their compliance status semi-annually instead of annually.

The proposed rule is not expected to have a significant economic impact on small businesses nor have a significant economic effect on any entity.

The consent of the Attorney General will be requested for the incorporation by reference of a new test method in ch. NR 484.
