

Chapter Pers 6

KINDS OF EMPLOYMENT

Pers 6.01	Seasonal employment	Pers 6.05	Limited term employment prohibited
Pers 6.02	Provisional, temporary and emergency employment	Pers 6.06	Limited term employment subject to approval
Pers 6.03	Limited term employment	Pers 6.07	Procedure and reports
Pers 6.04	Use of limited term employment restricted	Pers 6.08	Definitions

(Note: Chapter Pers 6, REEMPLOYMENT was repealed effective 5-1-58 and the contents of the chapter incorporated into chapter Pers 4.)

(Sections 16.105 (2) (bn), 16.20, 16.23 (3) and 16.24 (2), Wis. Stats.)

Pers 6.01 Seasonal employment; definition. Employment in positions, the need for which may reasonably be anticipated and is likely to recur periodically each year or within shorter periods, may be designated by the director as seasonal. Incumbents of such positions are designated as seasonal employes.

History: Cr. Register, April, 1958, No. 28, eff. 5-1-58.

Pers 6.02 Provisional, temporary and emergency employment. See Sec. 16.20 Stats. and chapter Pers 7.

History: Cr. Register, April, 1958, No. 28, eff. 5-1-58.

Pers 6.03 Limited term employment. Employment covered by section 16.105 (2) (bn), Wis. Stats., shall be designated as limited term employment.

History: Cr. Register, April, 1958, No. 28, eff. 5-1-58.

Pers 6.04 Use of limited term employment restricted. The use of limited term employment shall be restricted to those positions where the nature and conditions of employment will not lead to a career and where the use of normal procedures for recruitment and examinations are not practicable.

History: Cr. Register, April, 1958, No. 28, eff. 5-1-58.

Pers 6.05 Limited term employment prohibited. Limited term employment shall not be used to fill vacancies in permanent or seasonal positions in the classified service.

History: Cr. Register, April, 1958, No. 28, eff. 5-1-58.

Pers 6.06 Limited term employment subject to approval. The use of limited term employment shall be subject to prior approval by the director with due consideration being given to current labor market conditions, probable duration of the employment, the need for formal examination procedures and other pertinent circumstances.

History: Cr. Register, April, 1958, No. 28, eff. 5-1-58.

Pers 6.07 Procedure and records. Procedures for recruitment, examination, compensation and record keeping covering limited term employment may be abbreviated to provide only those minimum processes and records consistent with expediting employments and safeguarding public interests.

Register, April, 1958, No. 28

History: Cr. Register, April, 1958, No. 28, eff. 5-1-58.

Pers 6.08 Definitions. The following definitions shall apply to limited term employment:

(1) SHORT-TERM. Short-term means employment of less than 6 months duration which does not recur at regular intervals.

(2) PROJECT. Project employment means a planned undertaking which is not a regular and continuing function of the department and which has an established probable date of termination.

(3) PART-TIME. Part-time employment is employment on any basis less than the statutory work period for full-time service.

(4) STUDENT. Student employment means the employment of a bona-fide student of the University of Wisconsin, any of the State Colleges or the Institute of Technology currently enrolled or who will enroll at the next session.

History: Cr. Register, April, 1958, No. 28, eff. 5-1-58.