INTRODUCTION

Purpose and Structure

The legislature, by section 35.93 and chapter 227, Wis. Stats., 1955, directed the publication of the rules of administrative agencies having rule-making authority in a loose-leaf, continual revision system known as the WISCONSIN ADMINISTRATIVE CODE. The code is kept current by means of new and replacement pages. The pages are issued monthly, together with notices of hearings on proposed rules, emergency rules, new rules, instructions for insertion of new material, and other pertinent information. This monthly service is called the WISCONSIN ADMINISTRATIVE REGISTER, and comes to the subscriber after the 25th of each month.

Availability

The complete code and the upkeep service are distributed to the county law libraries; to the libraries of the University of Wisconsin Law School and Marquette University Law School; to the State Historical Society; to the Legislative Reference Bureau and to the State Law Library, and to certain designated public libraries throughout the state.

The sale and distribution of the code and of its parts is handled by Department of Administration, Document Sales and Distribution, Room B 237, State Office Building, 1 West Wilson Street, Madison, Wisconsin 53702.

History Notes

Each page of the code as it was originally filed and printed pursuant to the 1955 legislation, is dated "1-2-56". A rule which is amended or created subsequent to the original printing date is followed by a history note indicating the date and number of the REGISTER in which it was published and the date on which the amendment or the rule became effective. The absence of a history note at the end of a section indicates that the rule has remained unchanged since the original printing in 1956. The date line at the bottom of the page indicates the month in which the page was released.

In some instances an entire code has been repealed and recreated subsequent to the original printing date. When this occurs a history note has been placed at the beginning of the chapter to contain this information. A separate history note appears after each section indicating the date when the revision became effective.

Jurisprudence, Dietetics, P. & P. of Medicine, Physiology, Materia Medica, Toxicology, Physical Diagnosis, Neurology, Hygiene, Anatomy, E. E. Note: We occasionally have inquiries as to why applicants are required to re-write in some of the basic science subjects (Anatomy, Physiology, Pathology and Diagnosis) when the Wisconsin basic science board examines in these specific subjects and issues a certificate in recognition of their proficiency in them. In past reciprocal relations with other state boards, we have learned that some states will not grant reciprocity to applicants who have written a state board examination which does not include the basic science subjects, Wisconsin has, therefore, included some of these subjects so our licentiatees will have less difficulties when seeking reciprocity in other states.

order to be eligible for license. If applicant receives an average grade of 75 or more in all subjects and falls below 70 in 2 subjects, he is conditioned in those subjects and may retake the examination in those subjects in which his grade fell below 70 with subsequent issuance of license, if a grade of 70 or more is received, providing application is complete in all respects. Conditions or failures may be removed within one year without additional charge. However, all examinations subsequent to the second require a new application and an additional fee of $45. Med 40.05 Wisconsin register of doctors. Regardless of the above exemptions, doctors' names are not included in the WISCONSIN REGISTER OF DOCTORS unless they send us the required fee set for that year. This REGISTER is published yearly after March 1, and contains a list of all physicians who have complied with annual registration by February 1, as required by statute. The board, in its discretion, may make copies of the registry available for general distribution at a charge of $1 per copy.

Med 40.06 First registration for those licensed before 1944. A doctor licensed before 1944, who has subsequently conducted his practice entirely outside of Wisconsin, shall register if he wishes to return to Wisconsin to conduct his practice, or if he intends to remain out-of-state but wishes to register in order to be listed annually in the WISCONSIN REGISTER OF DOCTORS. An original "Application for Annual Registration" shall be returned to this office with the required fee for that year and an "Application for Re-Registration." However, no physician practicing out-of-state is required to complete even this first registration; his license remains valid and operable without annual renewal during that time.

Med 40.07 Practice in Wisconsin. Any licentiate of this board who practices medicine in Wisconsin in a civilian capacity, regardless of the length of time, with the exception of those in federally operated institutions, must register annually by February 1. If he begins his practice subsequent to February 1, he should write this board at once and request an application for re-registration for the current year. This regulation includes residents. If a doctor intends to practice in Wisconsin for only a week or two, perhaps in a locum tenens capacity, he is still required to register.
