The testimony taken shall not be binding on or conclude the examining party and may be rebutted or impeached.

(2) Any witness who is hostile, unwilling, adverse or evasive may with permission of the examiner be interrogated by leading questions and impeached by the party calling him.

History: Cr. Register, October, 1971, No. 190, eff. 11-1-71.

Ag 1.12 Amendments and variances; parties. (1) The examiner may at any stage of a proceeding direct or permit the amendment or correction of any process, pleading or other defect in the proceedings of a non-prejudicial nature on such terms as may be fair and just. Any person who is a necessary party to the determination of the issues in any proceeding may be made a party as the examiner may authorize or direct.

(2) Subject to the approval of the examiner, proof at any hearing may depart from the allegations of the complaint or answer and the complaint or answer may be amended to conform to such proof. Continuances shall be granted, on request, if undue surprise results. Introduction of evidence which tends to prove conduct, acts or omissions of the same type, character or nature alleged in the complaint or answer, shall not constitute undue surprise.

The petition shall be served on all parties to the proceeding which gave rise to such order, and shall state the grounds upon which it is based and the relief sought. The department may require the filing of supporting affidavits. Upon receipt of a petition the department shall notify all parties of record appearing in the proceeding of the filing of the petition or require the petitioner to serve such notices. Parties of record may file a statement of position within 20 days after receipt of the notice. The department may grant or deny the petition in writing or bring the matter on for hearing.

History: Cr. Register, October, 1971, No. 190, eff. 11-1-71.

Ag 1.15 Consent orders and stipulations. The parties may stipulate to the issuance of a consent order at any time before testimony begins at a hearing on the merits of the complaint. Stipulations not made on the record at a hearing shall be in writing subscribed by the parties.

(1) The examiner on application of any party may by issuance of a subpoena or other appropriate order authorize the taking of a deposition of a party or any other person for discovery or other purposes, in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe. Such subpoenas or orders may require the production of documents or physical evidence. No depositions may be authorized for the purpose of obtaining evidence which is readily available without the taking of a deposition, or from a person who is expected to appear at the hearing, or when the taking of a deposition will result in undue delay of the proceedings.

(2) No discovery may be had prior to hearing against officers, agents or employees of the department, or the department of justice, available for examination at the hearing, but the department or department of justice as complaining parties shall, on request of any party, produce for inspection or copying any documentary or physical evidence, including written statements of the respondent, to be used as evidence at the hearing. A list of witnesses, and their addresses, to be called at the hearing by the department or department of justice as complainants shall be furnished to the respondent upon receipt of a list of witnesses, and their addresses, to be called at the hearing by the respondent. Testimony of witnesses whose names and addresses do not appear in such lists shall be excluded, except for good cause shown.

(3) Depositions may be taken before any person having power to administer oaths. Examinations shall be conducted as on direct examination, except that adverse parties or hostile witnesses may be examined as under cross examination.

(4) Depositions under this section may be used as evidence if otherwise admissible under the same circumstances in which they may be admitted in civil actions in courts of law.

(5) If any part of a deposition is put in evidence, any party may require the production of the remainder, or any other portion of the deposition. Depositions under this section may be used for impeachment purposes.
