HEA 3.03 Financial need. The financial need of the student shall be determined by the financial aid officer at the institution in which the student is enrolled or accepted for enrollment and certified to the board by the financial aid officer. A student shall be deemed to have financial need if that student is eligible to receive federal interest benefits. The amount of a student's loan may not exceed the difference between the estimated cost of the student's attendance at the institution (which, for purposes of this section, means the cost for the period for which the loan is sought, of tuition, fees, room and board, and other reasonable supporting expenses) and any student aid reasonably available or awarded to the student. The board reserves the right to assess the student's financial need in cases it determines to be exceptional and unusual.
