

striction. There are no restrictions on the aggregate amount an association may invest in loans on security property located outside its normal lending area, or on the qualifications of persons by or through whom the loans are originated or serviced other than those also applicable to loans made on security property located within the normal lending area.

(6) Charge an accountholder a fee for making any payment or transfer under sub. (2) or a negotiable order of withdrawal account or for maintaining a negotiable order of withdrawal account or an account authorized under sub. (2) or providing any service in connection with such an account. This subsection is in addition to authority to charge a fee otherwise available under ch. 215, Stats., and is subject to restrictions which may be applicable under chs. 421 to 428, Stats.

(7) Establish and maintain a branch or extended office within this state regardless of whether the office is located within the normal lending area of the association's home office but subject to approval of the commissioner and all other requirements and restrictions imposed by state statute or rule. This subsection is in addition to authority to establish and maintain branch and extended offices otherwise provided under ch. 215, Stats.

(8) Sell loans or participation interests in loans with recourse.

(9) Serve as depository for federal taxes or as treasury tax and loan depository subject to regulation of the U.S. treasury department, and as a depository of public money and fiscal agent of the government or, when designated by an instrumentality and approved by the commissioner, of any other instrumentality of the government. An association may satisfy any requirement in connection with that depository service, including, but not limited to, pledging collateral and maintaining a U.S. treasury general or time deposit open account or note or tax and loan accounts which are not savings accounts or savings deposits.

(10) Charge fees in connection with the administration of savings accounts except a fee or a fee increase may be imposed only if a written, clear and conspicuous disclosure of the fee or fee increase and the method of computing it is delivered to the saver before the saver opens the account or mailed to the saver not less than 30 days prior to the date the fee or fee increase takes effect, whichever is later.

(11) Offer negotiable order of withdrawal accounts for the deposit of public funds by an officer, employe, or agent of the United States, any territory, possession or subdivision of the United States, any state, county, municipality, town, a political subdivision of a state, county or municipality, the District of Columbia or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(12) Make loans for the payment of educational expenses, except an association's total investment in loans under this subsection may not exceed 5% of assets. This subsection is in addition to the authority to make a loan under s. 215.13 (38), Stats.

(13) Invest in time deposits, savings accounts, certificates or other accounts of any institution the accounts of which are secured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation or a bank the deposits of which are insured by the Federal Depository Insurance Corporation.

(14) Invest in obligations of or issued by any state, territory or possession of the United States or political subdivision of any state, territory or possession (including any agency, corporation or instrumentality). An association may invest in an obligation under this subsection only if:

(a) The obligation continues to hold one of the four highest national investment grade ratings or is issued by a public housing agency and backed by the full faith and credit of the United States, except an association may invest not more than 1% of its assets in obligations of a state, territory, possession or political subdivision where an office of the association is located regardless of rating; and

(b) The total amount invested in obligations of one issuer exclusive of general obligations, does not exceed 10% of the net worth of the association.

S-L 30.25 Money market account. (1) An association is authorized under s. 215.02 (18), Stats., to offer a money market account to any person, including, but not limited to, corporations and partnerships, as follows:

(a) An association may open a money market account only if:

1. The initial balance is at least $2,500; or

2. The account consists of funds deposited to the credit of, or in which the entire beneficial interest is held by, an individual pursuant to an Individual Retirement Account agreement or Keogh (H.R. 10) Plan established under 26 U.S.C. (I.R.C. 1954) 219, 401, 408 and related provisions.

(b) The maximum interest rate on the account shall not exceed the ceiling rate for negotiable order of withdrawal accounts for the entire computation period if the balance is less than $2,500, unless par. (a) 2 applies. An association may determine the balance for the purpose of this paragraph by averaging the daily balance over a period not to exceed one month. For the purposes of this paragraph "month" means a calendar month or a statement cycle of at least 4 weeks but no longer than 35 days.

(c) Associations shall reserve the right to require at least 7 days notice prior to withdrawal. This notice period shall be applied equally to all depositors.

(d) Associations may guarantee the interest rate to be paid or computation method but for no more than a one month period. An association may establish maturity for the account no longer than one month. An association may not condition the interest rate or computation method on the period of time the funds remain on deposit, if that period is longer than one month.

(e) Associations may permit not more than 6 preauthorized transfers per month, including withdrawals by negotiable order to third persons and telephone transfers to third parties or another account, and not more than 3 withdrawals by negotiable order drawn to third parties.

(f) Associations may accept additional deposits into the account, including automatic transfers from other accounts of the depositor, without limitation.

(g) Associations may not make loans to enable a depositor to meet balance requirements under paragraph (a) or (b).

(h) 1. Associations shall either:

a. Prevent transfers of funds in the money market account which are in excess of the number of transfers permitted under par. (e); or

b. Adopt procedures to monitor those transfers after they have occurred and contact customers who exceed the limits established by par. (e) on more than an occasional basis. For customers who continue to violate those limits after being contacted by the association, the association shall either close the account or take away the account's transfer and draft capacities.

2. Associations may use on a consistent basis either the date on a check or draft or the date it is paid in applying the limit on checks and drafts established by par. (e).

3. The rate of interest or other charges imposed on an overdraft credit arrangement on an account to which withdrawals from the money market account can be paid shall be not less than those imposed on overdrafts for customers who do not maintain the money market account.

(2) Except as explicitly provided this section is in addition to, and does not limit, authority otherwise available to associations under federal and state law.

(3) An association may offer the money market account as provided under 12 C.F.R. 1204.122.

S-L 30.35 Conversion to stock association. (1) A mutual association is authorized, under ss. 215.02 (18) and 215.58, Stats., to:

(a) Convert to a stock association as part of a transaction in which a holding company is organized to acquire upon issuance all the capital stock of the converted association. In such a transaction savers of the converting association shall receive, without payment, nontransferable rights to purchase all of the capital stock of the newly formed holding company. All of the shares of capital stock of the holding company not purchased in the subscription offering shall be offered and sold in a public offering or a direct community offering. Prior to offering stock to savers or the public the association shall obtain a valuation of the association by an independent expert using commonly accepted valuation methods. The valuation shall be included in the plan submitted under s. 215.58, Stats. The total price at which the capital stock shall be sold shall be established by the independent valuation.

(b) Convert to a stock association as part of a transaction in which an existing holding company acquires upon issuance all the capital stock of the converted association. In such a transaction the savers of the converting association shall receive, without payment, nontransferable rights from the holding company to purchase its equity securities. Equity securities of the holding company issued in the transaction which are not purchased in the subscription offering shall be offered and sold in a public offering or a direct community offering. Prior to offering stock to savers or the public the association shall obtain a valuation of the association by an independent expert using commonly accepted valuation methods. The valuation shall be included in the plan submitted under s. 215.58, Stats. The total price at which the securities of the holding company shall be sold shall be established by the independent valuation.

(c) Convert to a stock association through absorption by an existing insured stock association which is a wholly owned subsidiary of a holding company. In such a transaction the savers of the converting association shall receive, without payment, nontransferable rights from the holding company to purchase its equity securities. Equity securities of the holding company issued in the conversion transaction which are not purchased in the subscription offering shall be offered and sold in a public offering or a direct community offering. Prior to offering stock to savers or the public the association shall obtain a valuation of the association by an independent expert using commonly accepted valuation methods. The valuation shall be included in the plan submitted under s. 215.58, Stats. The total price at which the equity securities of the holding company shall be sold shall be established by the independent valuation.

(d) Convert to a stock association through absorption by an existing insured stock association as part of a transaction in which the equity securities of the existing stock association are issued. In such a transaction the savers of the converting association shall receive, without payment, nontransferable rights from the existing stock association to purchase its equity securities. Equity securities of the existing stock association issued in the conversion transaction which are not purchased in the subscription offering shall be offered and sold in a public offering or a direct community offering. Prior to offering stock to savers or the public the association shall obtain a valuation of the association by an independent expert using commonly accepted valuation methods. The valuation shall be included in the plan submitted under s. 215.58, Stats. The total price at which the equity securities of the existing insured stock association shall be sold shall be established by independent valuation.

(2) The commissioner will accept applications under this section on a test-case basis. No application may be filed under this section without the prior written approval of the commissioner.

(3) Except as otherwise explicitly provided by this section, ch. 215, Stats., applies to a conversion or absorption under this section.

Note: This rule parallels 12 C.F.R. 563b.9 and 563b.10.

S-L 30.48 Other authority not restricted. The authority provided as associations under this chapter and ch. S-L 31 is in addition to and does not limit authority otherwise available under ch. 215, Stats., and under other law.

History: Cr. Register, August, 1983, No. 332, eff. 9-1-83.

S-L 30.49 Uninsured associations. An association which is not insured by the federal savings and loan insurance corporation may exercise authority granted under s. 215.02 (18), Stats., only to the extent and subject to the restrictions applicable to an insured association exercising those powers.

Note: All state chartered associations may exercise "parity" authority only subject to the restrictions on that authority applicable to federal savings and loan associations under federal savings and loan insurance corporation regulations. This applies equally to state chartered associations which are not insured by the FSLIC.
