ORDER OF THE

Analysis Prepared by the Department of Public Instruction

Presently, three years of classroom teaching experience are required for licensure as an elementary or secondary level school administrator. School counselors, school psychologists, and school social workers work closely with children in a school setting. The proposed amendments to the requirements for obtaining licenses as an elementary or secondary level administrator would allow persons with three years of successful experience as a school counselor, school psychologist, or a school social worker to count their experience in these roles toward the classroom experience requirement provided that these persons had also completed at least 540 hours of successful classroom teaching experience.
