Accy 3.07 Cheating on examination. Instances of cheating on the uniform certified public accountant examination are serious breaches of integrity and indicate a lack of good professional character.

(1) Illustrations of cheating on examination, not intended to be all-inclusive, are as follows:

(a) Communications concerning an examination being written between candidates inside or outside of the examination room, or copying another's answers.

(b) Communications concerning an examination being written with confederates outside of the examination room.

(c) Substitution by a candidate of another person to sit in the examination room for the candidate and write one or more of the examination questions or papers for the candidate.

(d) Reference to "crib notes", text books or other material inside or outside the examination room during periods examinations are being written.

(2) Penalties to be imposed by the board for cheating on the examination are to be related to the seriousness of the situation. Premeditated cheating on the examination (planned in advance) is the most serious.

(a) Penalties may range from the entering of a failing grade on all parts written for the examinations in which cheating occurred and suspension of the right to write the next scheduled examination after the examination in which cheating occurred or to the entering of a failing grade on all parts written for the examinations in which cheating occurred and suspension of the right to write for as many as the next 6 scheduled examinations after the examination in which cheating occurred. Time within which conditional credit previously earned for passing part of the examination may be extended by board action in situations where penalties are levied, and by as long as the period of suspension.

(3) If more than one candidate in a connected offense of cheating on the examination knowingly is involved in cheating, all persons are subject to penalties, although not necessarily of the same severity.

(4) Other jurisdictions to which a candidate may apply to write the certified public accountant examination during a period of suspension of right to write will be notified of the penalty levied in Wisconsin.
