Plain language analysis:

On April 23, 2014, the Legislature enacted 2013 Wisconsin Act 345 which granted express rule-making authority to the Chiropractic Examining Board to promulgate rules concerning chiropractors and informed consent. This proposed rule addresses what was previously a common law duty under Hannemann v. Boyson, 2005 WI 94. Under the common law standard, chiropractors were to advise their patients of all alternate viable medical modes of treatment. Chiropractors were held to the reasonable person standard which required chiropractors to inform their patients of information necessary for a reasonable person to make an intelligent decision with regard to treatment. 2013 Wisconsin Act 345 changed the standard for chiropractors from the reasonable person standard to the reasonable chiropractor standard which requires disclosure only of the information that a reasonable chiropractor would know and disclose under the circumstances. The proposed rule creates a new chapter codifying the new standard into the current Chiropractic rules.
