Plain language analysis

The intent of the proposed rules is to establish rules defining complex rehabilitation technology, defining provider certification for complex rehabilitation technology suppliers, and identifying the circumstances under which complex rehabilitation technology may be covered or reimbursed by Medicaid fee-for-service and managed care organizations as directed by the Legislature in 2017 Wis. Summary of, and comparison with, existing or proposed federal regulations

42 CFR §440.70(b)(3) requires that states provide medical equipment, including durable medical equipment of which complex rehabilitation technology is a subset, suitable for use in the home as home health services and that this equipment be reviewed by a physician annually.

42 CFR §441.15 requires that states provide medical equipment, including durable medical equipment of which complex rehabilitation technology is a subset, as home health services.

“Medicare Program; End-Stage Renal Disease Prospective Payment System, Payment for Renal Dialysis Services Furnished to Individuals With Acute Kidney Injury, End-Stage Renal Disease Quality Incentive Program, Durable Medical Equipment, Prosthetics, Orthotics and Supplies (DMEPOS) Fee Schedule Amounts, DMEPOS Competitive Bidding (CBP) Proposed Amendments, Standard Elements for a DMEPOS Order, and Master List of DMEPOS Items Potentially Subject to a Face-to-Face Encounter and Written Order Prior to Delivery and/or Prior Authorization Requirements,” 84 Fed. Reg. 151,38330 (2019) proposes to change 42 CFR §414.234(b) to establish a master list of durable medical equipment, of which complex rehabilitation technology is a subset, requiring a face-to-face encounter with a provider, written authorization or prescription, and prior authorization in order to be a covered Medicare service.

“Medicare Program: Modernizing and Clarifying the Physician Self-Referral Regulations,” 84 Fed. Reg. 201,55766 (2019) proposes to change 42 CFR §§411.351 and 441.357 to exclude durable medical equipment suppliers from being value-based enterprise participants.

Comparison with rules in adjacent states

Illinois:

As of August 15, 2019, the state has rules related to the provision of durable medical equipment services, of which complex rehabilitation technology is a subset, under 225 Ill. Stat. 51, 305 Ill. Stat. 5, 50 Ill. Adm. Code Part 2019, 68 Ill. Adm. Code Part 1253, 89 Ill. Adm. Code Part 120, 89 Ill. Adm. Code Part 140, and 89 Ill. Adm. Code Part 590. These services must be prescribed by a physician and certain types of durable medical equipment require a face-to-face encounter in order to qualify for coverage. Equipment providers must be licensed, including requirements to maintain a physical facility, inventory, patient records, and liability insurance. Durable medical equipment providers must also be accredited by an organization approved by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services and recognized by the state. Additionally, prior authorization is required for certain durable medical equipment, such as repair of wheelchairs costing more than $400.

Iowa:

As of August 1, 2019, the state has rules related to the provision of medically necessary durable medical equipment, of which complex rehabilitation technology is a subset, under 441 IAC ch. 78. These services must be prescribed by a physician, physician assistant, or advanced registered nurse practitioner. Services must also be provided by a durable medical equipment dealer or pharmacy when available in the community in which services are being provided.

Michigan:

As of August 1, 2019, there appear to be no rules in the state that address the activities to be regulated by the proposed rules.

Minnesota:

As of August 6, 2019, the state has rules related to the provision of medically necessary durable medical equipment, of which complex rehabilitation technology is a subset, under Min. Stats. chs. 62Q, 147, 147A, 148, and 256B and Min. Rules chs. 9505 and 9525. These services must be prescribed by a physician or licensed practitioner, including physician assistants and advanced practice registered nurses. Services must generally be provided by a certified provider that does not have a financial relationship with the ordering physician or licensed practitioner and have been granted prior authorization when the cost exceeds a designated amount. Certified providers must also have a contractual relationship with the county in which services are being provided. In some instances, volume purchases through competitive bidding are required.
