Plain Language Analysis

Under chapter DWD 65, the Department's Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR) implements a waiting list called an order of selection that is used to determine which categories of individuals will receive vocational rehabilitation services when resources are not available to serve all categories of eligible individuals who apply for the services. DVR evaluates individuals and places them in categories based on the significance of their disabilities. For DVR to be eligible for federal grants for those services, the order of selection must comply with requirements under Title I of the federal Rehabilitation Act, 29

USC 720 to 751. Prior to passage of the federal Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act of 2014 (WIOA), Public Law 113-128, the Rehabilitation Act prohibited state agencies such as DVR from providing services under an order of selection to individuals who are not placed in the category for most significant disabilities. However, WIOA amended the Rehabilitation Act to authorize state agencies to provide specific services and equipment for maintaining employment to individuals regardless of their category under the order of selection. In Clearinghouse Rule CR 22-008, the Department amended s. DWD 65.04 (3) to allow DVR to exercise that authority.

Clearinghouse Rule CR 22-008 went into effect on July 1, 2022. On September 15, 2022, Division staff met with the Rehabilitative Services Administration (RSA) of the US Department of Education. The RSA makes grants to state agencies for vocational rehabilitation services under the federal Rehabilitation Act and regularly meets with state agencies regarding eligibility for the grants. At the meeting, the RSA advised Division staff that an additional amendment of s. DWD 65.04 (3) is needed to meet the intent of federal regulations. RSA recommended that DVR's authority to provide services and equipment to individuals for maintaining employment should apply only to individuals in immediate risk of losing employment. This rule amends s. DWD 65.04 (3) as recommended by RSA.

Summary of, and comparison with, existing or proposed federal statutes and regulations

As noted above, the RSA makes grants to state agencies under the federal Rehabilitation Act. Federal regulations implementing the grant program are set forth at 34 CFR Part 361. To be eligible for the grants, a state must have a state plan that is approved by the RSA. 29 USC 721 (a) (1) (A). See also 34 CFR 361.2. If vocational rehabilitation services cannot be provided to all eligible individuals, the state plan must include an order of selection that ensures that individuals with the most significant disabilities are selected first to receive the services. 29 USC 721 (a) (5) (C). However, as noted above, WIOA added a provision to the Rehabilitation Act that authorizes a state, at its discretion, to serve eligible individuals, whether or not they are receiving vocational rehabilitation services, who require specific services or equipment to maintain employment. 29 USC 721 (a) (5) (D); 34 CFR 361.36 (a) (3) (v). In the preamble to regulations implementing the changes to the Rehabilitation Act, as amended by WIOA, the RSA stated that this authority applies to individuals at immediate risk of losing employment. 81 Federal Register 55667 (August 16, 2016).

Comparison with rules in adjacent states

Order of selection rules in Illinois and Minnesota do not address providing services or equipment for maintaining employment to individuals regardless of their category under an order of selection waiting list. See Ill. Admin. Code title 89, ss. 553.130 and 553.140; Minn. Rules, parts 3300.5010, 3300.5030, and 3325.0135. However, Minnesota State Services for the Blind in the Department of Employment and Economic Development has issued guidance specifying that job retention services are available to individuals who are at risk of losing employment.

Iowa's order of selection rules include a mechanism for providing vocational rehabilitation services and goods for maintaining employment to an individual on an order of selection wait list who is at immediate risk of job loss. See Iowa Admin. Code 281-56.3 (259) (defining "job retention waiting list") and 281-56.6 (1) c. (making job retention services available to eligible individuals).

Michigan does not appear to have any order of selection rules.

Summary of factual data and analytical methodologies

DVR policy analysts and staff reviewed the Rehabilitation Act, as amended by WIOA, federal regulations, state statutes, and consulted with the Wisconsin Rehabilitation Council. Development of this rule did not involve the gathering, analysis, or use of data. Therefore, s. 227.14 (2m), Stats., does not apply to this rulemaking.
