Chapter PI 34 of the Wisconsin Administrative Code contains the rules governing educator licensure, including the issuance of tier 1, one-year renewable licenses with stipulations. Under s. PI 34.028 (2), the state superintendent may issue a tier I license to an applicant who does not meet all the requirements for a tier II, III, or IV license if the applicant meets one of several criteria. Among these criteria, the applicant is hired to meet a school district need and meets one of the following requirements: 1) for a teaching license, the applicant must hold a bachelor's degree or higher; 2) for a school social worker or school counselor license, the applicant must hold either a master's degree in the area of licensure or a bachelor's degree or higher from an institution and verification of enrollment in an approved program leading to the license for the assignment; or 3) for a school psychologist, the applicant must hold a master's degree in the area of licensure and verify enrollment in an approved program in the area of licensure and verify enrollment in an approved program leading to the school psychologist license. Additionally, the applicant's employing school district must have conducted a search for a fully licensed candidate and no fully licensed candidates were acceptable for the assignment, and the district administrator of the employing school district submitted a written request to the state superintendent on behalf of the applicant for the applicant to receive the license.

The proposed rule change will permit the state superintendent to issue a tier I license to an applicant who is hired to meet the needs of an employing CESA, charter school, or private school. To receive the license, the applicant shall meet the same degree requirements stated above and the administrator of the employing CESA, charter school, or private school shall submit a written request to the state superintendent on behalf of the applicant for the applicant to receive the license. Without a rule change, the department will be unable to implement this flexibility for all schools and will be required to implement ch. PI 34 based on current rule.
