CHAPTER 189.

[Published March 11, 1875.]

AN ACT to amend chapter one hundred and thirty-three (133), of the Revised Statutes, entitled, "Of costs and fees."

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Whenever the party in whose favor judgment is rendered in justice court shall appeal from such judgment to the circuit court, and a new trial shall be had in the circuit court, if the party appealing shall not recover a more favorable judgment than the judgment appealed from, he shall not recover costs, but shall pay costs to the adverse party; provided, that the provisions of this act shall apply only to appeals hereafter taken.

Party appealing from justice court shall not recover costs unless a more favorable judgment be obtained.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

Approved March 4, 1875.
