If such child is not removed therefrom by such relative or county within a reasonable time after its birth, the superintendent shall notify the county judge of the facts of the case, and such judge shall make suitable provision for the care and comfort of the child. He may also remove such child from the Home for Feeble Minded as provided in section 597 of the revised statutes for the removal of patients from the hospitals for the insane. All proper expenses for the care and removal of such child shall be chargeable to the county in which the mother resided when so committed. Such expenses shall be paid in the first instance on the certificate of the county judge, by the said Home for Feeble Minded, and shall, together with all necessary lying-in expenses of the mother, be certified by the superintendent and charged to and collected of the proper county in the manner specified in section 573m of the statutes of 1898.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.
