CHAPTER 405.

AN ACT to repeal and recreate section 168.095, to amend section 168.096 and to create section 168.097 of the statutes, relating to oil inspection.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 168.095 of the statutes is repealed.

SECTION 2. Section 168.096 of the statutes is amended to read:
 168.096 Any person who shall violate the provisions of section 168.095 or 168.097 shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than * * * fifty dollars nor more than * * * five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not less than thirty days nor more than six months.

SECTION 3. Two new sections are added to the statutes to be numbered and to read: 168.095 No person shall sell or offer for sale any gasoline or similar motor vehicle fuel, excepting kerosene, which shall when tested by distillation method 100.13 of the United States government standard specifications (as given in United States Bureau of Mines Technical Paper 323B or other rule, regulation, law or specification for like purposes to be enacted or adopted by the government of the United States of America) give temperatures higher than the following:

(a) When ten per cent is distilled over, the temperature shall not exceed one hundred seventy-six degrees Fahrenheit.

(b) When twenty per cent is distilled over, the temperature shall not exceed two hundred twenty-five degrees Fahrenheit.

(c) When fifty per cent is distilled over, the temperature shall not exceed two hundred eighty-four degrees Fahrenheit.

(d) When ninety per cent is distilled over, the temperature shall not exceed three hundred ninety-two degrees Fahrenheit.

(e) The end point shall not be higher than four hundred thirty-seven degrees Fahrenheit.

(f) At least ninety-five per cent shall be recovered as distillate in the receiver from distillation.

(168.097) (1) It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, attempt to sell, offer for sale or assist in the sale of any lubricating oil, and wilfully and falsely represent such lubricating oil to be the lubricating oil of any dealer, manufacturer or producer other than the true dealer, manufacturer or producer thereof, and it shall be unlawful for any member of a firm, or any officer of a corporation knowingly to permit any employe of such firm or corporation to sell, offer for sale or assist in the sale of any lubricating oil, and to falsely represent such lubricating oil to be the lubricating oil of any dealer, manufacturer or producer, other than the true dealer, manufacturer or producer thereof.

(2) It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation engaged in or operating in the business of selling at retail any lubricating oil, to display any sign or other designating mark at or near the place of business of such person, firm or corporation, which describes or designates a brand or trade name of lubricating oil not actually sold or offered for sale at the place of business where the sign or other designating mark is displayed.

(3) It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to mix or adulterate any lubricating oil or gasoline, and to sell, attempt to sell, offer for sale or assist in the sale of the product resulting from the mixture or adulteration, and to represent such product as the lubricating oil of a brand or trade name in general use by any other marketer or producer of lubricating oil.

(4) It shall be the duty of the supervisor of inspectors, his deputies and any person authorized by him to investigate all complaints and he is hereby authorized and empowered to take such sample or samples, as he may deem necessary of any lubricating oil and gasoline, when the same is kept or stored within the state. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to refuse to permit the said supervisor, his deputies, or any person authorized by him, to take such sample or samples, or to prevent or to attempt to prevent him, or them, from taking the same. Provided, however, that if the person, firm or corporation, from which said sample is taken, shall at the time of said taking demand it, then the said person taking such sample shall pay therefor the reasonable market price for the quantity so taken. The university of Wisconsin shall analyze samples of lubricating oil so taken and promptly furnish, free of charge, a full report of such analysis, but the said supervisor may have such analysis made by any other competent person.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon passage and publication.
