CHAPTER 262.

AN ACT to amend subsection (4) of section 357.11 and subsection (4) of section 357.13 of the statutes, relating to insanity at the time of trial or conviction on committing the offense.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Subsection (4) of section 357.11 and subsection (4) of section 357.13 of the statutes are amended to read: (357.11) (4) A re-examination of his sanity or mental condition may be had as provided in section 51.11, except such person shall make his application for rehearing to the court from which he was committed. If upon such rehearing a jury shall determine he is insane or feeble-minded, then another hearing shall not be had thereafter unless the court which had jurisdiction in the first case shall be satisfied there is reasonable cause to believe that there is an improvement in the person's mental condition, in which case such court may order another jury trial. * * * No such person so committed shall be discharged from detention unless the magistrate or the jury upon whom devolves the duty to pass upon his
