

1975 Assembly Bill 74

Date published: December 3, 1975

CHAPTER 108, Laws of 1975

AN ACT to amend 88.91 (1) of the statutes, relating to obstruction of drainage ditches from soil deposited and providing a penalty.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

88.91 (1) of the statutes is amended to read:

88.91 (1) Except as authorized by s. 88.93, no person shall place any kind of obstruction to the free flow of water, including any soil wilfully deposited, in any drainage ditch, constructed under any drainage law of this state or lawfully constructed by any other person, without first obtaining the written consent of the drainage board or other person or authority in charge of such ditch.
