(3) Coverage may be extended beyond the 3 months specified in sub. (1) but not to exceed a total of 36 months. The employe must pay the contribution for the lesser of 3 months or the entire period of interrupted earnings. Premium must be deducted from the employe's earn-

The insurance shall not be effective again until the date the employe resumes active state employment and then only as provided by Grp 7.04 (1) (b). If insurance is terminated as provided in this section and the employe does not resume active state employment, he or she may not convert the insurance to an individual policy.

History: Cr. Register, November, 1980, No. 299, eff. 1-1-81.

Grp 7.23 Coverage during disability. (1) If an insured employe is totally disabled before age 70 as a result of bodily injury or disease so as to be wholly prevented from performing any work or engaging in any occupation for remuneration or profit, and appears to the head of his or her employing department likely to remain so disabled for an indefinite period of time, the premium may be discontinued for 9 months, or until any earlier time that the employe is able to return to work. The insurance shall remain in force while premiums are discontinued. After premiums have been discontinued for 9 months the insurance company may request the employe to furnish proof of total disability. If the proof of total disability is accepted, the insurance will remain in force as long as the disability continues, subject to new proof of disability being submitted each year if required by the insurance company.

(2) The following conditions apply to the cessation of premiums during a period of total disability:

(a) Cessation shall not begin while the employe is receiving earnings.

(b) The employer, on the form provided by the director, may certify to the cessation while earnings are being received, to be effective when the earnings cease.

(c) If the employe was insured at the time earnings stopped, the cessation of premiums may apply a maximum of 90 days retroactively from the date the certification of cessation of premiums is received by the director, but may not apply prior to the actual date of cessation of earnings.

(d) The certification of cessation will be accepted from the employer within 31 days after the termination of employment provided that the disability was the cause of the termination and no other employment has intervened. A certification will be accepted after the 31 day period has expired only if it is established that the certification was submitted as soon as reasonably possible. Unless the existence of total disability can otherwise be documented no certification will be accepted unless submitted within 90 days following the employe's termination of employment.

resigns, is discharged from state employment, or attains age 70, whichever occurs first.

Within 30 days of the date of removal or discharge, the employe must pay to the employer or the director the initial payment to keep the insurance in force. The initial payment shall cover the premium for a 3 month period, but may be for a greater period at the option of the employe. Additional payments for at least 3 months may be made not later than 30 days prior to the end of the period for which premiums had previously been paid, until a final determination is reached.

(2) If the appeal determination is adverse to the employe, the date of termination of employment shall, for purposes of coverage, be the end of the month in which the determination becomes final by expiration without appeal of the time within which an appeal might have been perfected, or by final affirmation on appeal. Any premiums which have been paid for any period subsequent to the month in which a final determination is reached shall be refunded.

Grp 7.52 Adjustments. Except as provided by Grp 7.04 (3), whenever the proper premium is not paid by an insured employe in any month, any deficiency shall be deducted by the employer upon the ensuing payroll after discovery of nonpayment or improper payment. If an excess deduction of premium has been made for any employe the excess shall be adjusted by reducing subsequent premiums for that employe, or if there be no later payroll payment then a refund check shall be issued to the person making the overpayment.
