5 establishing multiple municipal local health departments in Milwaukee
6 County and city-city local health departments.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, in a county with a population of less than 500,000 (all counties except Milwaukee County), a local health department may be a city health department that was established before January 1, 1994, a county health department, or a city-county health department. In Racine County only, a local health department may be a village or town health department or may be a multiple municipal local health department that is established by a city, village, or town in concert with another city, village, or town. In addition, counties may establish multiple county health departments. In Milwaukee County, a local health department may be a city or village health department.

This bill authorizes the governing body of a city or village in Milwaukee County to establish, in concert with the governing body of another city or village in that county, a multiple municipal local health department in a manner that is similar to the establishment of multiple municipal local health departments in Racine County under current law. All the powers and duties of current law for local health departments apply to a multiple municipal local health department that is established under the authorization created in this bill.

The bill also authorizes the governing body of a city with an existing city health department to establish, in concert with the governing body of another city with an existing city health department in the same county, a city–city local health department, in a manner that is similar to the establishment of multiple municipal local health departments in Racine County under current law. All the powers and duties of current law for local health departments apply to a city–city local health department that is established under the authorization created in this bill.
