Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Generally under current law, the complete text of an ordinance that is enacted by a city, village, town, county, or town sanitary district (local governmental unit) must be published in a local newspaper. If no newspaper exists in a village, however, the ordinance may be posted in at least three public places in the village. Towns may also post ordinances in the same manner.

Under this substitute amendment, a local governmental unit may continue to publish the complete text of an enacted ordinance or the local governmental unit may publish a notice of the ordinance in a local newspaper. The notice must contain at least all of the following information:

1. The number and title of the ordinance.
2. The enactment date of the ordinance.
3. A summary of the ordinance.
4. Information about where the full text of the ordinance may be obtained.

The substitute amendment makes no change to current law regarding the posting of ordinances in villages or towns.
