- (b) A notarized letter written by the individual that states that the individual, to the best of the individual's knowledge, recovered from COVID-19.
- (3) Written notification. If an employer notifies an employee or prospective employee that the employer requires an employee or prospective employee to receive a vaccine against the SARS-CoV-2 coronavirus and to show proof of having received the vaccine, or to be regularly tested for COVID-19 as a condition of an offer of employment or continued employment with the employer, the employer shall inform the employee or prospective employee in writing of the individual's right to provide proof of natural immunity under sub. (2).
- (4) DISCRIMINATION. No employer may discriminate against an employee who provides proof of natural immunity under sub. (2) in the individual's employment, including requiring the employee to self-isolate, wear a face covering, or work in an area outside the employee's usual work area, if the employer does not require the same of employees who provide proof of vaccination or who undergo regular testing for COVID-19.
