Extended intensive treatment surcharge

Under current law, an individual may be placed at or transferred to a state center for the developmentally disabled if DHS and the individual's county of residence agree upon a maximum discharge date for the individual, among other requirements. Currently, DHS may impose a surcharge on a county for certain services provided at a center for the developmentally disabled after an individual's maximum discharge date. Under current law, all moneys received as payment for the surcharge must be provided to counties for onetime costs associated with relocating individuals from a center for the developmentally disabled. Under the bill, the surcharge must be used instead for the provision of alternative services by mental health institutes and centers for the developmentally disabled, such as residential, dental, and mental health services.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. 20.435 (2) (g) of the statutes is amended to read:

20.435 (2) (g) Alternative services of institutes and centers. All moneys received as payments for services under ss. 46.043 and 51.06 (1r) and (5) for provision of alternative services by mental health institutes under s. 46.043 and by centers for the developmentally disabled under s. 51.06 (1r).

*NOTE: I didn't include "and (5)" after the second instance of s. 51.06 (1r), as provided in the model language, since that part of this paragraph relates to the purpose
