1     AN ACT to amend 343.305 (9) (a) (intro.) and 343.305 (9) (am) (intro.) of the 2             statutes; relating to: the right to discovery in implied consent cases involving 3             drunk driving.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, if a person arrested for driving or operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of an intoxicant (OWI) refuses to take a test to determine the amount of alcohol in his or her blood or breath, the law enforcement officer who requested the test takes possession of the person's license. The law enforcement officer then prepares a notice of intent to revoke the person's operating privilege and gives a copy of the notice to the person, to the circuit court and to the district attorney. The notice informs the person of a number of items, including the right to request a court hearing to contest the revocation. The Wisconsin court of appeals, in State v. Schoepp, 204 Wis. 2d 266 (1996), held that a person who receives a notice of intent to revoke the person's operating privilege may utilize the full range of discovery procedures under state law, including the use of depositions and interrogatories.

This bill prohibits either party's use of discovery in these cases, except that at the hearing, before a witness testifies, the person who refuses to take the test has the right to receive a copy of any written or voice recorded statement of the witness. The bill allows the court, for cause, to order the production of those statements before the hearing.
