This bill increases the Joint Committee on Finance's supplemental appropriation by $500,000 in each fiscal year of the biennium for the purpose of increasing reimbursement rates for physical health services under the Medical Assistance program. Physical health services are nonpharmacologic interventions used for treatment or mitigation of pain, including chiropractic methods and physical therapy. To obtain the supplement, the Department of Health Services must submit a proposal for the reimbursement rate increase to and receive approval of the proposal from JCF.

The bill also includes acupuncture provided by a certified acupuncturist as a reimbursable benefit under the Medical Assistance program. The bill requires DHS to submit to the federal government any request for federal approval necessary to provide the reimbursement for an acupuncture benefit under the Medical Assistance program.
