Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill requires the Department of Administration to establish and administer a pilot program for grants for payment of training costs for new law enforcement officers at small law enforcement agencies. Under the bill, "small law enforcement agency" means a police department, tribal police department, combined protective services department, or sheriff's office that employs fewer than 25 full-time equivalent law enforcement officers who are not supervisors. The grants may be used to pay for training a preservice student who is enrolled in a program to become a law enforcement officer or tribal law enforcement officer and to pay for employment costs during the first six months of employment of such an officer. Also under the bill, if a small law enforcement agency has received reimbursement for training a preservice student or recruit from the Law Enforcement Standards Board, the agency may not also receive a grant under the program that duplicates the amounts reimbursed. The bill requires any individual whose training or recruitment period of six months is paid for under the pilot program to commit to remain with the employing small law enforcement agency for one year after the training or service paid for with the grant has ended. If such an individual does not complete 12 months of employment, the department may seek from the individual repayment of the grant on a prorated basis. Under the bill, DOA must administer the pilot program until the appropriation for the program is fully depleted.
