326.01 Oaths, who may administer. (1) WITHIN THE STATE. An oath or affidavit required or authorized by law (except oaths to jurors and witnesses on a trial and such other oaths as are required by law to be taken before particular officers), may be taken before any judge, court commissioner, resident United States commissioner who has complied with section 235.19, clerk, deputy clerk or calendar clerk of a court of record, notary public, town clerk, village clerk, city clerk, justice of the peace, police justice, county clerk or his deputy within the territory in which such officer is authorized to act; and, when certified by such officer to have been taken before him, may be read and used in any court and before any officer, board or commission. Oaths may be administered by any person mentioned in subsections (3) and (4) of section 325.01 to any witness examined before him.

(2) WITHOUT THE STATE. Any oath or affidavit required or authorized by law may be taken in any other state, territory or district of the United States before any judge or commissioner of a court of record, master in chancery, notary public, justice of the peace or other officer authorized by the laws thereof to administer oaths, and in case the same shall have been properly certified by any such officer to have been taken before him, and shall have attached thereto a certificate of the clerk of a court of record of the county or district within which such oath or affidavit was taken, under the seal of his office, that the person whose name is subscribed to the jurat was, at the date thereof, such officer as he is therein represented to be, was empowered by law as such officer to administer the oath or affidavit, and that he believes the name so subscribed is the signature of such officer, such oath or affidavit may be read or used in any court within this state and before any officer, board or commission authorized to use or consider the same. Whenever any such oath or affidavit is certified by any notary public or clerk of a court of record and an impression of his official seal is thereto affixed no further attestation shall be necessary. [1933 c. 253; 1933 c. 454 s. 11]

326.02 Duty to administer official and election oaths; no fees. (1) It shall be the duty of every person thereto authorized by law to administer and certify, on demand, any official oath and any oath required on any nomination paper, petition or other instrument used in the nomination or election of any candidate for public office, or in the submission of any question to a vote of the people.

(2) No fee shall be charged by any officer for administering or certifying any official oath, or any oath to any person relative to his right to be registered or to vote.

Note: Subsection (2) does not prohibit charging of fee for administering oath under 5.05 (5) (b). 27 Atty. Gen. 187.

326.025 Testimonial oath. (1) In all judicial proceedings the witnesses shall be sworn before testifying, and the oath may be administered substantially in the following form: Do you solemnly swear that the testimony which you shall give in [here indicate the action, proceeding or matter on trial or being inquired into], shall be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help you God.

(2) The assent to the oath by the person being sworn may be manifested by the uplifted hand. [Supreme Court Order, effective Jan. 1, 1937; Supreme Court Order, effective July 1, 1941; Supreme Court Order, effective July 1, 1943]

326.03 Oath, how taken. Any oath or affidavit required or authorized by law may be taken in any of the usual forms, and every person swearing, affirming or declaring in any such form shall be deemed to have been lawfully sworn. [Supreme Court Order, effective July 1, 1941; Supreme Court Order, effective July 1, 1943]

Note: The record of a 7-year-old child's examination and her answers to the questions put to her both by the magistrate to determine her competency and by counsel to ascertain the facts connected with the collision, in which her companion was struck and killed by the defendant's car, sufficiently showed that she was capable of understanding the obligation to make truthful answers to questions asked, and in the circumstances the receiving of her testimony in the preliminary examination, without administering an oath, was not error. State ex rel. Shields v. Portman, 242 W 5, 6 NW (2d) 713.

326.04 Affirmations. (1) Every person who shall declare that he has conscientious scruples against taking the oath, or swearing in the usual form, shall make his solemn declaration or affirmation, which may be in the following form: Do you solemnly, sincerely and truly declare and affirm that the testimony you shall give in [here indicate the action, proceeding or matter on trial or being inquired into] shall be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth; and this you do under the pains and penalties of perjury.

(2) The assent to the affirmation by the person making it may be manifested by the uplifted hand. [Supreme Court Order, effective Jan. 1, 1937]

326.05 Deposition, may be taken. (1) Depositions (including that of a party taken on his own behalf) may be taken to be used before any court, magistrate or any other person authorized to hear testimony, in any civil action, matter or proceeding whatever, or on any motion therein.

(2) No deposition shall be taken before any officer or commissioner who is the attorney or of counsel for any party or person interested, or is himself otherwise interested in the action, matter or proceeding in or for which the deposition is taken, except by written consent of the parties. [Supreme Court Order, effective July 1, 1939]

326.06 Depositions in criminal cases. (1) In any criminal or quasi-criminal action or examination in a court of record or before a judge thereof, depositions may be taken when allowed by an order of the court or presiding judge; such order may be made only when the court or judge is satisfied that due diligence has been used in making such application, that the person whose deposition is wanted is a material witness, and is in imminent danger of death, or that he resides without the state, or is to be without the state, at the time of the examination or the trial, and that his attendance cannot, by the use of due diligence, be procured upon the examination or the trial. Such application by the defendant shall be accompanied by proof of notice to the district attorney of the time and place it is to be presented; and such an application on the part of the state shall be accompanied by proof of a like notice to the defendant or his attorney of record. The order shall direct whether the deposition shall be taken on oral or written interrogatories.

(2) When the state procures such an order, its notice (in addition to what is required by section 326.09) shall inform the defendant that he is required to personally attend at the taking of such deposition, and that his failure so to do shall constitute a waiver of his right to face the witness whose deposition is to be taken; and failure to attend shall constitute such waiver unless the court or judge is satisfied, when the deposition is offered in evidence, that the defendant was physically unable to attend. If the defendant be not then in jail he shall be paid witness fees for travel and attendance; but, in case the defendant be in jail, the sheriff, at the request of the district attorney, shall at the expense of the county have the defendant in attendance at the taking of such deposition. If the defendant is in custody, leave to take such deposition on behalf of the state shall not be granted, unless all states in which the sheriff will travel with the defendant in going to the place where such deposition is to be taken shall have conferred upon the officers of this state the right to hold and convey prisoners in and through them.

Note: For compulsory attendance of witnesses from without the state in criminal actions see 325.33. This section does not violate sec. 7, art. I, of the Wisconsin constitution, nor art. XIV, of the United States constitution. The statute is valid. State ex rel. Drew v. Shaughnessy, 212 W 322, 249 NW 522.

326.07 Depositions when authorized. Except in the cases covered by section 326.06, the deposition of a witness may be taken when:

(1) He shall live more than thirty miles from the place of trial or hearing of the action, proceeding or matter in which his testimony is wanted or beyond reach of the subpoena of the court.

(2) When he shall be about to go out of the state, not intending to return in time for the trial or hearing.

(3) When he is so sick, infirm or aged as to make it probable that he will not be able to attend at the trial or hearing.

(4) When he shall be a member of the legislature, if any committee of the same or the house of which he shall be a member, shall be in session, provided he waive his privilege.

(5) When his testimony is material to any motion or other similar proceeding in any court of record, and he shall have refused to make affidavit of the facts, within his knowledge, in reference thereto.

(6) When he has been examined adversely under section 326.12. [Supreme Court Order, effective Jan. 1, 1934]

326.08 Deposition; attendance of witness. Any witness may be subpoenaed and compelled to give his deposition at any place within twenty miles of his abode, under the same penalties as he may be subpoenaed and compelled to attend as a witness in any court.

326.09 Oral depositions; when taken, before whom, notice, absence of officer. (1) ORAL DEPOSITIONS IN THIS STATE. (a) Such deposition, in this state, may be taken by a justice of the peace, notary public, court commissioner or other person authorized to take depositions, at any time after the action or proceeding is commenced or after a submission to arbitration.

(b) Notice in writing shall be given to the adverse party, his attorney or agent, that the deposition of the witnesses named will be taken before the named officer, at a time and place appointed therein, for a statutory cause, specifying the cause; and three days' notice shall be given of the taking of such deposition, and additional time at the rate of one day for each three hundred miles or fraction thereof after the first thirty miles from the place where the notice is served. No notice need be given to a defendant who, having been served with process, shall not have appeared, if the time for appearance has expired.

(c) One day's notice shall be sufficient to authorize the taking of depositions of additional witnesses desired to be examined, given during the course of the taking of any deposition where the parties on each side appear.

(d) In case the officer designated shall not attend at the time and place noticed for taking the deposition, it may be taken before any other officer, authorized to take depositions, designated by the party who served the notice of taking deposition, and notice of such designation to the opposite party, in sufficient time to attend before the officer so designated if the opposite party shall have appeared at the time and place mentioned in the first notice; but if he shall not so appear, the moving party may, after waiting one hour, proceed to take such deposition before such other officer without further notice.

(2) ORAL DEPOSITIONS WITHOUT THIS STATE. (a) Such deposition may be taken orally without this state by any notary public or justice of the peace or by any judge or justice, court commissioner or master in chancery of any court of record of the United States or any state or territory thereof, or by any commissioner appointed pursuant to section 137.02, within the territory in which such officer is authorized to act.

(b) In a foreign country such deposition may be taken before any judge or clerk of a court of such country, any notary public, or any consul, vice consul, deputy consul or consular agent of the United States, resident in such country, or by any officer authorized by the laws of the United States to take depositions.

(c) Such deposition without the state may be taken, certified, returned, filed and used in the manner and under the provisions of law applicable to depositions taken within the state. [Supreme Court Order, effective July 1, 1939]

326.10 Depositions; how taken and returned. The deponent shall be sworn to testify the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth relating to the action, proceeding or matter for which his testimony is taken, and his testimony shall be taken in writing, or in shorthand by a stenographer approved by the officer taking the same, or by all parties in interest, and by such stenographer reduced to longhand. There must be inserted therein every answer or declaration of the witness and every oral interrogatory which any party requires to be inserted. The deposition must be read to or by the witness and subscribed by him, unless the parties represented shall stipulate, upon the record (which they may do), that the reading of the deposition to or by the deponent and his signature thereto are waived, and that the deposition may be used with like force and effect as if read and subscribed by him. The attendance of the deponent for the purpose of reading and subscribing his deposition may be compelled in the same manner that his attendance to be examined may be compelled. The deposition shall in all cases be delivered or transmitted by the officer by whom the same is taken to the clerk of the court, the magistrate, board or officer before whom the action, proceeding or matter is pending, securely sealed, and shall remain sealed until opened by such court, clerk, magistrate, board or officer.

326.11 Depositions, court rules for taking. Additional rules may be prescribed by courts of record in respect to actions and proceedings therein, concerning the issuing and return of commissions, the taking, return, safe-keeping and opening of depositions or any other matters connected therewith, including depositions to perpetuate testimony, taken within or without the state, not inconsistent with law and such rules as may be prescribed by the supreme court.

326.12 Discovery examination before trials. (1) PERSONS SUBJECT THERETO. The adverse examination of a party, or any person for whose immediate benefit any civil action or proceeding is prosecuted or defended, or his or its assignor, officer, agent or employe, or of the person who was such officer, agent or employe at the time of the occurrence made the subject of the examination, may be taken by deposition at the instance of any adverse party upon oral or written interrogatories in any civil action or proceeding at any time before final determination thereof, but the deponent shall not be compelled to disclose anything not relevant to the controversy. Each of said persons may be so examined once and no more, except when examined before issue joined, in which case he may be again examined after issue joined, upon all the issues. If the examination is taken after the complaint is served, but before issue is joined, it may extend to all the allegations of the complaint.

(2) PROCEDURE SAME AS FOR OTHER DEPOSITIONS, EXCEPTIONS. Except as provided otherwise by this section, such examination may be had within or without the state, and may be instituted and conducted under and pursuant to the laws and rules regulating the taking of other depositions for use in actions or proceedings.

(3) TIME, PLACE, NOTICE; OFFICERS EMPOWERED TO TAKE. Such examination, when taken within the state, shall be taken before a judge at chambers or a court commissioner on previous notice to all adverse parties or their respective attorneys of at least five days. If the person to be examined is a nonresident individual who is a party to the action or proceeding, or is a nonresident president, secretary, treasurer or managing agent of a foreign corporation that is a party to the action, the court may upon just terms fix the time and place of such examination, either within or without the state, and such nonresident shall attend at such time and place and submit to the examination, and, if required, attend for the reading and signing of such deposition, without service of subpoenas. Such examination shall not be compelled in any county other than that in which the persons examined resides, except when a different county shall be designated for the examination of a nonresident, and except that any nonresident subject to examination may be examined in any county of this state in which he is personally served with notice and subpoena, and except that the court may fix another place for such an examination in the case of a resident who is physically unable to attend the examination in the county of his residence.

(4) DISCOVERY NEEDED TO PLEAD. If discovery is sought, to enable the plaintiff to frame a complaint, the notice of taking the examination shall be accompanied by the affidavit of himself, his attorney or agent, stating the general nature and object of the action or proceeding; that discovery is sought to enable him to plead, and the subjects upon which information is desired; and the examination relative thereto shall be permitted unless the court or presiding judge thereof shall, before the examination is begun, further limit the subjects to which it shall extend, which may be done on one day's notice.

(5) USE OF DEPOSITION. Such portions of any such deposition as are relevant to the issues may be offered by the party taking the same, and shall be received when so offered upon the trial of action or proceeding in which it is taken, notwithstanding the deponent may be present.

(6) DEPOSITION FOLLOWING EXAMINATION. At the conclusion of the adverse examination the deposition of the witness may be taken without previous notice and before the same officer by any party, and the same may be used in like cases and with like effect as if taken upon notice. [Supreme Court Order, effective Sept. 1, 1931; Supreme Court Order, effective Jan. 1, 1934]

Note: A conflict in the plaintiff's testimony given on examination before trial, with his testimony given at the trial is to be reconciled by the jury. Swiergul v. Suamico, 204 W 114, 235 NW 548.

The adverse examination of a party, so far as competent, constitutes evidence against him, and may be offered at the trial notwithstanding his presence in court. Counsel for a party may reexamine him at the close of the adverse examination under this section, where the reexamination is confined to matters tending to explain or qualify testimony already given. Leslie v. Knudson, 205 W 517, 238 NW 397.

In corporation's action for goods sold, where defendant died during action, and president of corporation was dead, admitting deposition of defendant relating to defendant's transactions with president, taken otherwise than as witness at trial, held error.

F. H. Bresler Co. v. Bauer, 212 W 336, 248 NW 738.

While adverse examinations could have been put in evidence by the contestant as being an admission against interest, (5) prohibits their introduction by claimant; and not having been offered by contestant, they are not a part of the record. Estate of Shinoe, 212 W 481, 250 NW 505.

A court could not entirely suppress the taking of an adverse examination under (4), where the plaintiff had filed an affidavit stating the general nature and object of the action, that discovery was sought to enable the plaintiff to plead, and the subjects upon which examination was desired, which complied with every condition imposed by the statute, but did not state facts showing a cause of action, although the court might have limited the scope of the adverse examination upon motion and a showing sufficient to warrant the exercise of its discretion. Stott v. Markle, 215 W 528, 255 NW 540.

The adverse examination of a defendant cannot be used by a codefendant where the presence of the witness might have been procured. Drexler v. Zohlen, 216 W 433, 257 NW 675.

An order limiting the scope of an adverse examination under this section is not appealable. State ex rel. Finnegan v. Lincoln Dairy Co., 221 W 15, 265 NW 202.

An order to show cause which enjoined statutory adverse examination of defendant corporation's president, and supporting affidavit which alleged insufficiency of service of summons, did not waive defendant's special appearance based on same defects in service, where defendant sought no relief upon merits. Bitter v. Gold Creek Min. Co., 225 W 55, 273 NW 509.

An injured employe who has recovered workmen's compensation, being entitled in any event to part of recovery from third party causing injury, is a person for whose "immediate benefit" action by employer or insurance carrier is prosecuted, and hence is subject to adverse examination in suit by employer or insurance carrier against third party allegedly causing injury. Employers M. L. Ins. Co. v. Icke, 225 W 304, 274 NW 283.

For the remedy where the trial court abuses its discretion in refusing to suppress an adverse examination, see note to sec. 3, Art. VII, Const., citing Petition of Phelan, 225 W 314, 274 NW 411.

The requirements that a defendant answer the complaint in twenty days and that he shall testify on an adverse examination if given five days' notice, are imposed by separate statutes, and the rights thereby vested in a plaintiff exist independently of each other, and if compliance with the former requirement be interfered with by the latter requirement, the defendant's remedy is an extension of the time to answer, and not the suppression of the adverse examination. Plankinton Bldg. Co. v. Laikin's, Inc., 226 W 72, 276 NW 129.

An adverse examination is a provisional remedy, but it is one granted as a matter of course by this section, and hence no order of the court can be considered appealable under 274.33 (3) on the ground that such order grants this provisional remedy. Hyslop v. Hyslop, 234 W 430, 291 NW 337.

An order suppressing the taking of an adverse examination noticed under 326.12 is appealable as an order refusing a provisional remedy. [Milwaukee Corrugating Co. v. Flagg, 170 W 492, and other cases, distinguished.] Estate of Briese, 238 W 6, 293 NW 57.

An attorney for a party to litigation is not subject to adverse examination under 326.12 as an "agent" of such party, at least not an attorney whose alleged agency is predicated on his retainer for the very litigation in which discovery is sought. Estate of Briese, 238 W 516, 300 NW 235.

A court commissioner may compel the production of documents and other instruments of evidence for use on an adverse examination held before him. McGeoch Bldg. Co. v. Dick & Reuteman Co., 241 W 267, 5 NW (2d) 804.

As to appealability of orders made upon adverse examination, see note to 274.33, citing McGeoch Building Co. v. Dick & Reuteman Co., 241 W 267, 5 NW (2d) 804.

See note to 325.14, citing A. Gettelman Brewing Co. v. Milwaukee, 245 W 9, 13 NW (2d) 541.

While a deposition taken on adverse examinations is not a part of the record of the trial until offered, it or any portion offered and received at the trial becomes a part of the record and subject to use by both plaintiff and defendant. Spellbrink v. Bramberg, 245 W 103, 13 NW (2d) 600.

Where the circuit court had acquired jurisdiction of the defendant by the service of a summons in the action and the appearance of the defendant by attorney, the subsequent removal of the defendant from the state did not operate to impair the jurisdiction of the court in respect to a proceeding for adverse examination of the defendant under 326.12. State ex rel. Walling v. Sullivan, 245 W 180, 13 NW (2d) 550.

An affidavit for discovery against a corporation and its president and secretary, stating that the object of the action is to recover damages sustained as the result of defendants' fraud in connection with defendants' sale of shares of stock owned by the plaintiffs in the defendant corporation, and that discovery is necessary as to certain facts within defendants' knowledge and not within plaintiffs' knowledge, is sufficient, as stating sufficiently the object of the action, and as disclosing no facts indicating as a matter of law that the plaintiffs do not have or could not have a cause of action against the defendants, although not stating a cause of action and not disclosing the name of the vendee of the stock. State ex rel. Wisconsin B. & I. Co. v. Sullivan, 245 W 544, 15 NW (2d) 847.

326.12 (4) should be administered with the consideration in mind that the adverse party should not be subjected without adequate reason or on inadequate showing to an inquest into his private affairs, and also, on the other hand, that the party who seeks to plead should be able on a proper showing to get such information as will enable him to plead a cause of action if he has one. State ex rel. Wisconsin B. & I. Co. v. Sullivan, 245 W 544, 15 NW (2d) 847.

This section must be read in the light of the interstate limitations resting on the state courts by reason of the form of government of the nation of which this state is a part, and the rule that, as a state court has no extraterritorial jurisdiction, there is no process available out of a court of this state to compel a nonresident to come within this state to testify. State ex rel. McKee v. Breidenbach, 246 W 513, 17 NW (2d) 554.

326.13 Deposition, when not used. Except as provided in section 326.12, no deposition shall be used if it shall appear that the reason for taking it no longer exists, unless the party producing it shall show other sufficient cause then existing for its use.

326.14 Deposition, when may be used. Except as otherwise provided in section 326.12 every deposition taken in pursuance of a stipulation or after due notice may be used on the trial by any party, if the same shall have been filed with the clerk of the court and the other party notified thereof, or if filed with a justice of the peace, without such notice, before the commencement of the trial and the same be otherwise unobjectionable. But in an action or proceeding in courts of record, unless such notice be given or the deposition be filed at least five days before the time set for the trial at which it is sought to be used, the opposite party shall be entitled to a continuance for good cause shown, at the cost of the party desiring to use the deposition, unless he will forego the use of it. [Supreme Court Order, effective Jan. 1, 1934; Supreme Court Order, effective Jan. 1, 1940]

326.15 Deposition, objections to. All objections to the validity or admissibility of any deposition shall be made before entering on the trial; but any deposition may be suppressed after the trial is begun if any sufficient cause appear which is not disclosed in the deposition and accompanying papers. No deposition which shall have once been used on the trial of an action shall be suppressed upon any retrial of the same action for any cause unless objection for such cause was made thereto on the former trial or such cause is not disclosed in the deposition and accompanying papers and shall have been discovered since the former trial.

Note: Motions to suppress evidence must generally be made before trial. State v. Drew, 217 W 216, 257 NW 681.

326.16 Objections to witness and question. Every objection to the competency of the witness, or to the propriety of any question put to him, or the admissibility of any testimony given by him may be made when the deposition is produced, in the same manner as if the witness were personally examined on the trial and without being noted upon the deposition unless the objection is to the form or order of a question, when the objection must be noted in the deposition before it is answered.

326.17 Deposition, use of in other actions. When a deposition shall have been lawfully taken in any action it may be used in any trial, inquiry or assessment therein, and it may also be used in any other action between the same parties, including their respective legal representatives, involving the same controversy, if it shall have been duly filed in the first mentioned action and have since remained in the custody of the clerk of the court where the same was pending, subject to the same objections as if originally taken for such other action.

326.18 Deposition may be used on appeal. When an action or proceeding shall have been appealed from one court to another all depositions lawfully taken to be used in the court below may be used in the appellate court; but if any such deposition was offered in the court below, then subject to the same objections for informality or irregularity, and none other, which were duly taken in writing in such court below.

326.19 [Renumbered section 269.55 by 1927 c. 523 s. 51]

326.20 Deposition in justice court. The justice of the peace before whom any civil cause is pending may, on any day on which a trial may be had, after an application has been made for adjournment and before making an order for an adjournment, on the application of either party, showing any cause provided by law therefor, proceed to take the deposition of any witness then in attendance before the justice; and no prior notice shall be required.

326.21 Deposition; order of examination. The party producing the deponent shall, in all cases, be allowed first to examine him, either upon verbal or written interrogatories, on all points which he shall deem material, and then the adverse party may examine the deponent in like manner, after which either party may propose such further interrogatories as the case may require.

326.211 [Repealed by 1927 c. 523 s. 52]

326.22 Form of certificate. The officer shall annex to the deposition a certificate substantially as follows:

STATE OF WISCONSIN, }
 County. } ss.

I, A. B. (add official designation), in and for said county, do hereby certify that the above deposition was taken before me at my office, in the of, in said county, on the ... day of, 19... at ... o'clock, ... noon; that it was taken at the request of the plaintiff (or defendant, or other person procuring it), upon verbal (or written) interrogatories; that it was reduced to writing by myself (or by, a disinterested person, in my presence, and under my direction, or was taken in shorthand by, approved by me, or by all parties in interest and by him reduced to longhand); that it was taken to be used in the action of A. B. vs. C. D., now pending in ... court (or to be used in some proceeding or matter, mentioning it), and that the reason for taking it was (here state the true reason); that attended at the taking of such deposition (or that a notice, of which the annexed is a copy, was served upon on the ... day of, 19...; or that the deposition was taken in pursuance of the annexed stipulation); that said deponent, before examination, was sworn to testify the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth relative to said cause, and that said deposition was carefully read to (or by) said deponent and then subscribed by him (or the parties attending the taking of the deposition stipulated on the record, that the reading of the deposition by or to the deponent and his signature thereto is waived and that it may be used as if read and signed).

A. B. (adding official designation).

326.23 Deposition relative to public institutions. (1) WHO MAY REQUIRE. The state department of public welfare, the state board of health, the state superintendent, the board of regents of the university, or the board of regents of normal schools may order the deposition of any witness to be taken concerning any institution under his or its government or superintendence, or concerning the conduct of any officer or agent thereof, or concerning any matter relating to the interests thereof. Upon presentation of a certified copy of such order to any justice, notary public or court commissioner, such officer shall take the desired deposition in the manner provided for taking depositions to be used in actions. When any officer or agent of any institution is concerned and will be affected by the testimony, 2 days' written notice of the time and place of taking such deposition shall be given him. Any party interested may appear in person or by counsel and examine the witness touching the matters mentioned in the order. The deposition, duly certified, shall be delivered to the authority which ordered it.

(2) FEES. Every officer who takes a deposition, and every witness who appears and testifies under this section, shall be paid the fees allowed on the taking of other depositions, and the account of the expenses incurred in taking any such deposition, being duly certified, shall be paid out of the state treasury and charged to the appropriation of the authority which ordered the deposition. [1943 c. 89]

326.24 Deposition; for use in other states. Any witness may be subpoenaed and compelled to attend and give his deposition before any person authorized to take depositions in this state, or before any commissioner appointed under the authority of any other state, territory or country, or any court thereof, in any action, cause or proceeding pending in such other state, territory or country; provided, its laws contain provisions similar to this section, requiring persons within its borders to give their testimony by deposition in actions pending in Wisconsin.

326.25 Witnesses sent to other states. (1) Upon presentation to any judge of a court of record in Wisconsin of the certificate of the judge or the clerk of any foreign court of record, under seal, stating that any person being or residing in Wisconsin is believed to be a necessary witness in any civil action pending in that court, such judge (if satisfied by such proof as he shall require that the testimony of such witness is necessary to the trial of such action) shall issue and attach to such certificate a subpoena commanding such witness to appear in the court where such action is pending, at the time and place stated therein, or show cause, before such judge, at a time and place fixed in such subpoena, why he should not appear as therein commanded. Such judge may refuse to issue a subpoena or may vacate the subpoena after it is issued, if it appear that compliance will cause undue hardship to the witness.

(2) If any person on whom such subpoena has been served, and to whom has been tendered the sum of ten cents for each mile to be traveled to and from the court, together with the sum of five dollars for each day that his attendance is required, shall neglect to attend and testify at such trial, he shall be punished as for a criminal contempt unless such subpoena shall be vacated.

(3) This section shall not apply to any action pending in any state, territory or country whose laws do not contain provisions similar to this section, requiring persons within their borders to attend for the purpose of testifying in any civil or criminal action pending in this state. [1933 c. 48 s. 1]

326.26 Depositions without this state by commission. (1) HOW TAKEN. In any civil action, proceeding or matter in which depositions may be taken within this state, the deposition of any witness without the state may be taken upon written interrogatories as provided in this section.

(4) COMMISSION TO TAKE. A commission may issue from any court of record to take the deposition of any witness without the state, where an issue of fact has been joined or the time therefor has expired, for any cause which shall be deemed sufficient by the court, or when required for use on any trial or hearing or upon any motion or proceeding. The commission shall be signed by the clerk and sealed and shall be accompanied by a copy of subsections (4), (5) and (6).

(5) PROCURING COMMISSION. (a) The party desiring a commission shall prepare interrogatories and state in the caption thereof the name of the commissioner proposed by him, the name of the witness and the residence of each with particularity, and shall serve a copy thereof on the opposite party, with a notice that, at the expiration of ten days from the date of such service, a commission will be issued to take the deposition of the witness, specifying the reason for taking the same. Within such time the opposite party may file with the clerk and serve upon the other his objections, to the interrogatories proposed and to the competency of the witness and to the issuance of the commission and serve his cross-interrogatories; and state the name and residence of any person whom he desires to act as an additional commissioner, who must reside in the county in which the commissioner first named resides.

(b) At the expiration of the time limited, the moving party may file the notice and interrogatories, with proof of service thereof and his objections to the cross-interrogatories. He may also serve redirect interrogatories on the opposite party, who may, within three days after such service, file objections to such redirect interrogatories. Thereupon the commission shall be issued, with the interrogatories, direct, cross and redirect, and all objections, and transmitted to the commissioner first named by mail or express at the expense of the moving party. But when any defendant shall not have appeared and the time for him to plead has expired, no notice is required to be given such defendant, and the commission may issue on filing the direct interrogatories. No commission shall issue if the residences are not given as required.

(6) DUTY OF COMMISSIONER. (a) The commissioner first named shall fix the time and place for executing the commission and give the other commissioner one day's notice thereof, when he resides in the same place, and when not, one day's notice in addition for every thirty miles of distance between his place of residence and the place fixed for executing the commission. If the notice be by mail double time shall be allowed; but notice may be waived in writing or by appearance at the execution of the commission. If there be two commissioners the commission shall be executed in the county where they reside, unless they agree upon another. The commissioner first named shall have charge of and return the deposition, which return shall be in the form and manner directed by the commission or as provided by section 326.22. If either commissioner shall not attend at the time and place so fixed, the other may execute the commission with like effect as if both were present, but he must certify in his return that the other had due notice but failed to attend.

(b) One of the commissioners shall publicly administer an oath or affirmation to each witness that the answers which he shall make to each of the interrogatories propounded to him shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. His answers to each interrogatory shall be reduced to writing. Each witness shall subscribe his name at the end of his answer and the commissioners shall subscribe their names at the foot of each page of the testimony. If any exhibit is produced and proved or referred to in the answer of any witness, it shall be marked as an exhibit, either by letter or number, by a commissioner, and referred to in the testimony of the witness, and annexed to and returned with the deposition. If the paper be a record or other document not in the control of either party, it shall be sufficient to annex a copy, stated by the witness in his answers to be a true copy thereof. The commissioners shall certify in their return that each witness, before giving his evidence, was duly sworn or affirmed, and shall state the time when the testimony was taken.

(c) The proper commissioner shall inclose the commission, the interrogatories, and the deposition with the return annexed in a sealed envelope, with the title of the action indorsed thereon and immediately transmit the same by mail or express to the clerk of the court from which the commission issued.

(d) Upon the receipt of such package, the clerk shall indorse the time and manner in which he received the same, and open it and file the contents thereof and give notice of the receipt of the same to the attorneys for the respective parties.

(7) FEES. The persons who take depositions and the witness shall be entitled to the fees allowed justices of the peace and witnesses for similar service by the law of this state, or such as may be prescribed by the law of the state or country where taken.

(8) TRANSLATIONS. When the witness is unable to speak the English language, the judge of the court from which the commission issues may appoint some competent and disinterested person to translate the commission, rules, interrogatories and cross-interrogatories, or such part thereof as may be necessary, from the English into the language spoken by the witness; and such translation shall be sent to the commissioner in place of the original papers that have been translated. Upon the return of the commission and deposition, such judge shall in like manner cause the answers of the witness and the exhibits to be translated into English, as well as all other proceedings in a foreign language, and such translation to be filed. The translator shall append to all translations his affidavit that he knows the English and such foreign language, and that in making such translation he carefully and truly translated such proceedings from the English into such foreign language or from the latter into English, and that such translation is correct. Such translation shall have the same effect as if all the proceedings were in English, but the trial court, upon the deposition being offered in evidence, may admit the testimony of witnesses learned in such foreign language for the purpose of correcting errors therein; and, if it shall appear that the first translation was in any respect so incorrect as to mislead the witness, the court may, in discretion, continue the cause for the further taking of testimony. [Court Rule XVII s. 5, 6, 7; Supreme Court Order, effective Jan. 1, 1934; Supreme Court Order, effective July 1, 1939]

(4) DEPOSITION RECORDED. The deposition, the certificate and the written statement of the party at whose request it was taken, shall, within ninety days after the taking thereof, be recorded in the registry of deeds in the county where the land lies, if the deposition relates to real estate; otherwise, in the county where some of the parties reside.

(5) DEPOSITION, WHEN USED. The deposition or a certified copy of such record thereof may be used in any action or proceeding between the person at whose request it was taken and the persons named in the said written statement, or any of them, who were notified as aforesaid, or any person claiming under either of the said parties concerning the title, claim or interest set forth in the statement, in the same manner and subject to the same conditions and objections as if it had been originally taken for said action or proceeding.

(5) COMMISSION, WHEN TO ISSUE. If, upon such hearing, the court shall be satisfied that there is sufficient cause for taking the deposition, it shall issue a commission therefor in like manner as for taking a deposition to be used in any pending cause.

(6) HOW TAKEN. The deposition shall be taken upon written interrogatories and cross-interrogatories; and returned substantially as if taken to be used in a pending cause.

(7) HOW USED. All depositions taken according to the provisions of this section may be used in like manner as if taken within this state.
