SUBCHAPTER II

CREATION, REVOCATION, AND AMENDMENT OF POWER OF APPOINTMENT

702.201 Creation of power of appointment. (1) A power of appointment is created only if the instrument creating the power satisfies all of the following:

- (b) Except as provided in sub. (2), the instrument governs the disposition of the appointive property.

(3) A power of appointment may not be created in a deceased individual.

(4) A power of appointment may be created in an unborn or unascertained powerholder.

History: 2023 a. 127.

A warranty deed grants a present fee simple interest. A purported reservation of a power of appointment in a warranty deed is ineffective. Powers may be reserved and a lesser interest granted, but not by warranty deed. Lucareli v. Lucareli, 2000 WI App 133, 237 Wis. 2d 487, 614 N.W.2d 60, 99-1679.

NOTE: The above annotation relates to powers of appointment under former ch. 702, 1997 stats., prior to the repeal and recreation of this chapter by 2023 Wis. Act 127.

702.202 Nontransferability. A powerholder may not transfer a power of appointment. If a powerholder dies without exercising or releasing a power of appointment, the power lapses.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.203 Presumption of unlimited authority. Subject to ss. 702.204 and 702.205, and unless the terms of the instrument creating a power of appointment manifest a contrary intent, a power of appointment is all of the following:

- (3) A general power of appointment.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.204 Exception to presumption of unlimited authority. Unless the terms of the instrument creating a power of appointment manifest a contrary intent, the power is a nongeneral power of appointment if all of the following apply:

- (1) The power is exercisable only at the powerholder's death.
- (2) The permissible appointees of the power are a defined and limited class that does not include the powerholder's estate, the powerholder's creditors, or the creditors of the powerholder's estate.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.205 Rules of classification. (1) In this section, "adverse party" means a person with a substantial beneficial interest in appointive property that would be affected adversely by a powerholder's exercise or nonexercise of a power of appointment in favor of the powerholder, the powerholder's estate, a creditor of the powerholder, or a creditor of the powerholder's estate.

(2) If a powerholder may exercise a power of appointment only with the consent or joinder of an adverse party, the power is a nongeneral power of appointment.

(3) If the permissible appointees of a power of appointment are not defined and limited, the power is an exclusionary power of appointment.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.206 Power to revoke or amend. A donor may revoke or amend a power of appointment only to the extent that any of the following applies:

- (1) The instrument creating the power is revocable by the donor.
- (2) The donor reserves a power of revocation or amendment over the power of appointment in the instrument.

History: 2023 a. 127.

SUBCHAPTER III

EXERCISE OF POWER OF APPOINTMENT

2. The terms of the instrument exercising the power do all of the following:

  - b. Subject to s. 702.304, satisfy the requirements of exercise, if any, imposed by the donor.

(b) A power of appointment is exercised under par. (a) only to the extent the appointment is a permissible exercise of the power.

(2) If the donor requires the consent of the donor or any other person for the exercise of a power of appointment, the consent must be expressed in the instrument exercising the power of appointment or in a separate written instrument, signed in either case by the persons whose consent is required. If any person whose consent is required dies or becomes legally incapable of consenting, the power of appointment may be exercised by the powerholder without the consent of that person unless the terms of the instrument creating the power of appointment manifest a contrary intent.

(3) (a) Except as provided in par. (b) and unless the terms of the instrument creating a power of appointment manifest a contrary intent, if a power of appointment is vested in 2 or more persons, the joint powerholders may only exercise the power of appointment unanimously.

(a) The terms of the instrument containing the residuary clause do not manifest a contrary intent.

(b) The power of appointment is a general power of appointment exercisable in favor of the powerholder’s estate.

(c) There is no gift-in-default clause in the instrument creating the power of appointment or the gift-in-default clause in the instrument creating the power of appointment is ineffective.

(d) The powerholder did not release the power of appointment.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.303 Intent to exercise: after-acquired power. Unless the terms of the instrument exercising a power of appointment manifest a contrary intent, all of the following apply:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in sub. (2), a blanket-exercise clause extends to a power of appointment acquired by the powerholder after executing the instrument containing the clause.

(2) If the powerholder is also the donor of the power of appointment, a blanket-exercise clause does not extend to the power of appointment unless there is not a gift-in-default clause or the gift-in-default clause is ineffective.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.304 Substantial compliance with donor-imposed formal requirement. A powerholder’s substantial compliance with a formal requirement of appointment imposed by the donor, including a requirement that the instrument exercising the power of appointment make reference or specific reference to the power, is sufficient if all of the following apply:

(1) The powerholder knows of and intends to exercise the power of appointment.

(2) The powerholder’s manner of attempted exercise of the power of appointment does not impair a material purpose of the donor in imposing the requirement.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.306 Appointment to a deceased appointee. Subject to s. 854.06, an exercise of a power of appointment is ineffective to the extent it is in favor of a deceased appointee.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.307 Impermissible appointment. (1) Except as otherwise provided in s. 702.306, an exercise of a power of appointment is ineffective to the extent it is in favor of an impermissible appointee.

History: 2023 a. 127.

(2) An exercise of a power of appointment in favor of a permissible appointee is ineffective to the extent the appointment is a fraud on the power.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.308 Selective allocation doctrine. If a powerholder exercises a power of appointment in a disposition that also disposes of property the powerholder owns, the owned property and the appointive property must be allocated in the permissible manner that best carries out the powerholder’s intent.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.309 Capture doctrine: disposition of ineffectively appointed property under general power. To the extent a powerholder of a general power of appointment, other than a power to withdraw property from, revoke, or amend a trust, makes an ineffective appointment, all of the following apply:

(1) The gift-in-default clause controls the disposition of the ineffectively appointed property.

(2) (a) If there is no gift-in-default clause or to the extent the gift-in-default clause is ineffective, the ineffectively appointed property passes to one of the following:

1. If the powerholder is a permissible appointee and living, the powerholder.

2. If the powerholder is an impermissible appointee or deceased, the powerholder’s estate if the estate is a permissible appointee.

(b) If there is no taker under par. (a), the ineffectively appointed property passes under a reversionary interest to the donor or the donor’s transferee or successor in interest.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.310 Disposition of unappointed property under

released or unexercised general power. To the extent a powerholder releases or fails to exercise a general power of appointment other than a power to withdraw property from, revoke, or amend a trust, all of the following apply:

(1) The gift-in-default clause controls the disposition of the unappointed property.

(2) (a) If there is no gift-in-default clause or to the extent the gift-in-default clause is ineffective, except as otherwise provided in par. (b), the unappointed property passes to any of the following:

1. If the powerholder is a permissible appointee and living, the powerholder.

2. If the powerholder is an impermissible appointee or deceased, the powerholder's estate if the estate is a permissible appointee.

History: 2023 a. 127.

(1) The gift-in-default clause controls the disposition of the unappointed property.

(2) (a) If there is no gift-in-default clause or to the extent the gift-in-default clause is ineffective, the unappointed property passes to the permissible appointees if all of the following apply:

1. The permissible appointees are defined and limited.

2. The terms of the instrument creating the power do not manifest a contrary intent.

(b) If there is no taker under par. (a), the unappointed property passes under a reversionary interest to the donor or the donor's transferee or successor in interest.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.312 Disposition of unappointed property if partial appointment to taker in default. Unless the terms of an instrument creating or exercising a power of appointment manifest a contrary intent, if the powerholder makes a valid partial appointment to a taker in default of appointment, the taker in default of appointment may share fully in unappointed property.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.313 Appointment to taker in default. If a powerholder makes an appointment to a taker in default of appointment and the appointee would have taken the property under a gift-in-default clause had the property not been appointed, the power of appointment is considered not to have been exercised and the appointee takes under the gift-in-default clause.

History: 2023 a. 127.

702.314 Powerholder's authority to revoke or amend exercise. A powerholder may revoke or amend an exercise of a power of appointment only to the extent that any of the following applies:
