(e) "Should" is directory only, not mandatory, and connotes a duty or obligation to pursue a goal or objective.

(2) PURPOSE. The purpose of this rule is to assist the court in communicating with individual court users without practicing law. The rule is intended to enable court staff to provide the best service possible to individuals within the limits of the individual staff member's responsibility. The rule is not intended to restrict powers of court staff otherwise provided by statute or rule nor is it intended to eliminate the collection of applicable fees or costs. The rule is not intended to list all assistance that can be provided. The rule recognizes that the best service the court staff may provide in many proceedings is advising an individual to seek the assistance of an attorney.

(3) IMPARTIALITY. Court staff shall remain impartial and may not provide or withhold assistance for the purpose of giving one party an advantage over another.

(4) AUTHORIZED INFORMATION AND ASSISTANCE. Court staff shall do all of the following:

- (a) Provide public information contained in any of the following:
 - 1. Dockets or calendars.
 - 2. Case files.
 - 3. Indexes.
 - 4. Existing reports.
- (b) Provide a copy of, or recite, any of the following:

- (g) Provide phone numbers for lawyer referral services, local attorney rosters, or other assistance services, such as Internet resources, known to the court staff.

(h) Provide appropriate aids and services for individuals with disabilities to the extent required by the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990, 42 U.S.C. 12101 et seq.

If a supervisor is not available, the staff member should advise the individual to seek assistance from an attorney.

History: Sup. Ct. Order No. 01–18, 2002 WI 47, 251 Wis. 2d xvii.

Comments: Court staff shall provide a copy of a common rule, but court staff should not attempt to apply the rule to the facts in the individual's case. Sometimes, after court staff provides a rule, an individual will ask whether or how the rule would apply, or if the rule might be applied differently, given the facts in his or her case. This calls for an interpretation of the law or rule of procedure. Court staff shall avoid offering interpretations of laws or rules.

In providing assistance regarding forms, court staff may inform individuals that some general content may be required in a pleading, such as identification of the other parties involved in the accident or a description of the facts surrounding the accident. But court staff may not tell an individual whom to identify or which particular facts might be relevant in the pleading.

Court staff should, if possible, provide or direct an individual to pamphlets or other documents that may address an individual's question and that have been prepared for general distribution to the public.

Court staff may not compute deadlines specified by statute or rule.

Court staff may not perform legal research. Court staff may refer individuals to sections of the Wisconsin supreme court rules, local court rules, or Wisconsin statutes that govern matters of routine administration, practice, or procedure and they may give definitions of common, well-defined legal terms used in those sections. However, court staff shall not interpret the meaning of statutes or rules.

The list of prohibited types of assistance set forth under sub. 70.41(5) is not comprehensive. The list is consistent with the statutory directives in ss. 757.22 and 757.30(2), stats., regarding the practice of law by judicial officers and the unauthorized practice of law.

For purposes of the electronic filing system under s. 801.18, stats., a document is electronically signed if it is issued by a court official through the court case management system and bears the name of the court official in the place where a signature would otherwise appear. "Electronic signature" includes only those signature technologies specifically approved by the director.

(c) "Signature," for a document that is electronically filed or issued by the court or clerk, means either an electronic signature applied to an electronic document or a handwritten signature that is subsequently imaged.

(2) Secure electronic signatures may be provided by the consolidated court automation program for use by court officials who sign electronic documents. The electronic signature shall be treated as the court official's personal original signature for all purposes under Wisconsin statutes and court rules. An electronic signature may be used on all court documents, including those documents described in section 137.12 (2m) of the statutes. The official's printed name shall be inserted in place of a handwritten signature.

(3) A court official may delegate the use of his or her electronic signature to an authorized designee, using the security procedures of the consolidated court automation program. A court official is responsible for any use of his or her electronic signature by an authorized designee. Court officials shall safeguard the security of their electronic signatures and exercise care in delegating the electronic signature.

(4) An electronic signature shall be used only by the official to whom it is assigned and by such designees as the official may authorize. Upon learning that the confidentiality of the electronic signature has been inadvertently or improperly disclosed, the court official shall immediately report that fact to the consolidated court automation program.

(5) Court officials may use their electronic signatures for administrative purposes. If the signature of a court official is required on a document, an electronic signature satisfies that requirement. Electronically signed documents may be stored electronically for the proper retention period.

(6) Electronic signatures may be provided to the director of state courts and such employees as the director may designate for administrative purposes. At the discretion of the director, an employee may be provided with his or her own electronic signature if appropriate for the conduct of official business. The electronic signature shall be treated as the person's original signature.

(7) The chief justice, chief judges, and director of state courts may use their electronic signatures for the assignment of judges pursuant to SCR 70.23 and 70.24. A district court administrator may be the designee of the chief judges for purposes of judicial assignment.
