Youths with Disabilities Tour of Stoughton School District and Local Businesses

Stoughton High School is part of the national Partnerships in Employment project, known in Wisconsin as Let's Get to Work. Through this project 12 Wisconsin high schools have tripled paid employment for youth with significant disabilities. This tour will highlight how that happened.

The Assembly Committee on Education will take a tour of Stoughton High School and two local downtown businesses. The committee may have a quorum, however there will be no official business by the committee conducted at this time.
