Fiscal Estimate Narratives

Description the use of billboards to recruit Department of Corrections employees

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

This bill eliminates the current law prohibiting the use of billboards by the Department of Corrections (DOC) to recruit employees. If this prohibition was eliminated, DOC would explore using billboards for recruitment purposes. Given the current prohibition, the cost of using billboards for DOC recruitment purposes is undetermined.

For reference, DOC estimated that it would cost roughly $71,000 to put up recruitment billboards for six months at five locations meant to cover the department's highest vacancy sites. Note that depending on the site selection, number of billboards, and duration of advertising, the actual cost if DOC did pursue using billboards may vary substantially from this rough cost estimate.
