

audit the accounts for stationery and record books, as well as the postage account of the New York agency of the bank department of this state: Provided, that, before any of the aforesaid accounts shall be audited, the bank comptroller shall certify to the correctness of the same, and a sum of money sufficient is hereby appropriated to be paid out of the state treasury to pay the same: Provided, the whole amount so audited for stationery, record books, and postage shall not exceed the sum of fifty dollars for any one year.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved March 19, 1859.

[Published April 1, 1859.]

CHAPTER 181.

AN ACT concerning the amendment of pleadings.

The People of the State of Wisconsin, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In all cases when the summons and complaint shall be amended of course, by the making of other persons parties defendant; it shall only be necessary to personally serve upon the new parties, each a copy of the summons and complaint as amended, with a notice signed by the attorney of the plaintiff to the effect that such defendant is required to answer such complaint and serve a copy thereof upon such attorney at a place named by a time specified; which shall not be less than forty days from the time of such service of the summons and complaint upon a defendant without this state, nor less than thirty days when the service is made within this state; and that in case he fails to so serve his answer, the plaintiff will take such judgment as he may be entitled to by law, and no further time, or other notice, or service shall be necessary to entitle the plaintiff to proceed to judgment as to such new defendant. But no judgment shall be given, or rendered against any such new defendant until the time when judgment shall be given, or rendered against those, or some of those first made defendants.

SEC. 2. This act shall be printed by the state printer immediately after its passage, and when so printed shall take effect and be in full force.

Approved March 19, 1859.