CHAPTER 36.

[Published March 14, 1870.]

AN ACT relating to a special term of court in the seventh judicial circuit.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Regular terms
to be also special terms.

SECTION 1. The regular terms of circuit court held in each of the counties in the seventh judicial circuit in this state, shall be special terms for the whole of said circuit; and all actions, motions, proceedings or other business now pending or which may hereafter arise in any or either of the counties in said circuit, and not requiring a jury, may be brought on, heard, tried and determined, or otherwise acted upon or disposed of, at any or either of said special terms, in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if the same were brought on, heard, tried and determined or otherwise acted upon or disposed of, in the county wherein the same are now pending or may hereafter arise; and when any causes or matters are pending in either counties, different from the county in which the special term is held, the clerk of the court where the special term is held shall transmit all orders, judgments and other papers to the clerk of the circuit court of the county where said causes or matters are pending, and the said papers shall be filed and entered by such clerk in the same manner as if said cause or matter had been heard or determined by the circuit court at a term thereof held in that county. And all orders, proceedings and judgments made in pursuance of this act, shall have the like force and effect as if made in the county where such causes or matters are or may be pending. And no notice of the holding of such special term shall be required, other than the passage and publication of this act.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

Approved March 8, 1870.
