

to the bar in 1877. His illustrious career as a lawyer was begun in the city of Kewaunee where he was soon recognized as a leader in his profession. After leaving Kewaunee he practiced his chosen profession in Green Bay and Milwaukee. His reputation as a lawyer continued to spread and at the time of his election as justice of the supreme court in April, 1906, he was recognized throughout the state as one of the ablest practitioners in Wisconsin. Formerly a most powerful advocate in private practice, his service upon the bench has shown the utmost fairness and judicial temper in the careful weighing of the real issues in the cases before him. He had devoted his life to the study of his profession. He had studied economic questions carefully and brought to his judicial work not only a mind trained in the law and its history, but a comprehension of the law as it should be adapted to the needs of society. His death has removed from the illustrious high court of this state a jurist who fully measured up to the noble stature of the great men who have adorned it. Now, therefore, in sincere recognition of the eminent services of Justice Timlin, be it

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That this memorial be spread upon the journals of both houses and that a suitably engrossed copy thereof, duly attested by the signatures of the presiding officers and chief clerks, be transmitted to the family of the deceased justice.

---

[No. 25, S.]

JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 7.

Relating to the protection of migratory birds.

WHEREAS, There exists a convention between the United States and Great Britain for the protection of migratory birds, the ratifications whereof were exchanged on December 7, 1916, and

WHEREAS, There are now before the congress senate bill 7858 and house bill 20080, both intended to give full force and effect to said convention in this country, and

WHEREAS, The legislatures of the states of Minnesota and Michigan have before them resolutions memorializing congress to promptly enact such needed legislation, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That this legislature of the state of Wisconsin does hereby respectfully urge upon congress that it promptly enact senate bill 7858 or house bill 20080 for the protection of migratory birds.

That the senators and representatives in congress from the state of Wisconsin are respectfully requested to use their influence and to vote for the passage of such legislation.

That copies of this resolution, duly attested by the signatures of the presiding officers and chief clerks of the two houses, shall be transmitted to the president of the senate, to the speaker of the house of representatives, and to each of the senators and representatives in congress from this state.

---

[No. 34, S.]

JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 8.

Relating to the public services and death of Hon. Harry Chapman Martin.

Harry Chapman Martin, formerly a member of the assembly and then long a member of the senate and president pro tempore of that body, died at his home in Darlington on February twenty-fifth after a long and painful illness. Mr. Martin was born near Darlington on December 15, 1854, and was educated in the public schools and at the university of Wisconsin. He was admitted to the bar in 1881 and continued the active practice of his chosen profession up to the time of his last illness.

Mr. Martin was always interested in public affairs and served his community and the state in varied activities. He had been county superintendent of schools and president of the school board at Darlington; city attorney and mayor of his home city and later district attorney of Lafayette county; and a member of the Wisconsin national guard for five years. He was an active member of the state central committee of his party and a delegate to its national convention in 1908. His services to this state as a member of the legislature began in the assembly in 1895. In 1898 he was elected to the senate and served continuously as a member of that house until 1914. At the sessions of 1911 and 1913 he was elected president pro tempore.

Mr. Martin had thus given of his best efforts for many years as a devoted, capable and efficient public servant. His keenly analytical mind and sane judgment made him always a valued counsellor; his forward-looking vision gave added strength to his long experience in deliberations upon vital questions of public policy. Of dignified bearing, yet with a genial and kindly nature, he won the genuine love and esteem of his colleagues. His death has left a sense of personal loss among the ranks of his many friends, and has removed one who had long been an effective force for good until illness halted his active labors; now, therefore, in sincere recognition of the services of Harry Chapman Martin, be it