CHAPTER 111.

AN ACT to create section 1022—62 of the statutes, relating to vital statistics.

The people of the State of Wisconsin, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is added to the statutes a new section to read: Section 1022—62. When any marriage, birth or death heretofore or hereafter occurring in this state, shall not have been registered, upon presenting and filing with the local registrar of the township, incorporated village or city in which the marriage, birth or death occurred, or with the state board of health, proof of such marriage, birth or death on blanks to be furnished by the state board of health, the certificate shall be accepted for record and an exact copy sent to the register of deeds. Local registrars shall report to the state board of health each month all such original certificates filed with them after making a copy for the register of deeds. Proof shall be required as follows: In case of marriage, the affidavit of the person who performed the ceremony or, if such proof cannot be made, then the affidavit of some person not a party to the marriage who was present thereat; in case of birth, the affidavit of the attending physician, midwife, parent or other person who has actual knowledge of the time of such birth and of his parentage; and in case of death, the affidavit of some person who knew the deceased while living and actually saw him dead or has actual knowledge of his death. In each case such affidavit shall set forth the facts necessary to make a satisfactory record of such marriage, birth or death in the manner required by law.
