

and as much oftener as he shall deem necessary visit and examine the trust department of every national bank which has been granted a special permit by the federal reserve board to act in a fiduciary capacity under the provisions of subsection k of section 11, of the federal reserve act. The state treasurer shall receive from every such national bank a deposit of security, approved by the commissioner of banking, in the manner which is required of trust company banks organized under the provisions of section 2024—77j. Such securities shall be of the same nature as the security designated by the provisions of such section for deposit by trust companies organized under the laws of this state. Such national bank, so long as it shall continue solvent and comply with the laws of this state applicable thereto, may be permitted by the commissioner of banking to collect the interest on the security so deposited and from time to time withdraw the said securities or any part thereof provided that securities or cash of the amount and value required by this section shall at all times be maintained on deposit. The commissioner of banking shall make such charges and assessments for expenses incurred for services rendered in connection with such examinations and deposit of securities as is provided by law in the case of trust company banks organized under the laws of this state. If any such national bank shall not, after due notice, pay to the commissioner of banking any such charges assessed against them, the commissioner of banking may proceed to collect such assessment in the same manner as provided by law for the collection of assessments against state banks.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon passage and publication.

Approved June 24, 1921.

No. 496, A.]

[Published June 28, 1921.

CHAPTER 421.

AN ACT to create section 4444g of the statutes, to prevent damage to the state capitol building because of fire hazard, and to regulate the height of buildings in blocks surrounding the capitol park in the city of Madison, and providing a penalty.

The people of the State of Wisconsin, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is added to the statutes to read: Section 4444g. 1. For the purpose of preventing damage to the state capitol building and state property therein because of fire hazard, no building or structure hereafter erected in the blocks, or any part thereof, surrounding state property included in the capitol park in the city of Madison, namely, blocks seventy-two, seventy-three, seventy-four, seventy-five, seventy-six, seventy-seven, eighty-three, eighty-four, eighty-nine, ninety, ninety-nine, one hundred, one hundred one, one hundred two, one hundred three or one hundred four shall exceed ninety feet in height, and exclusive of chimneys and elevator houses erected thereon, measuring from the highest point of the curb line immediately in front of any lot or lots upon which such building or structure is erected; and no building now erected or in process of erection in any such block or any part thereof shall be altered or reconstructed so that the same when completed will exceed ninety feet in height when measured as above provided.

2. Any person, firm or corporation who shall cause, allow or permit any building or structure to be erected, altered or reconstructed in violation of the provisions of this section shall forfeit the sum of twenty-five dollars for each day such violation continues.

3. The attorney-general shall enforce the provisions of this section and shall institute proper proceedings to restrain violations thereof.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon passage and publication.

Approved June 23, 1921.

No. 491, S.]

[Published June 28, 1921.]

CHAPTER 422.

AN ACT to repeal expressly certain sections of the statutes that have been either superseded or repealed by implication; to repeal certain sections of the statutes that are duplicates of other sections; to strike out or remove obsolete and dead matter from certain sections of the statutes; to renumber and relocate certain sections of the statutes that have been improperly classified; to correct in certain sections of the statutes mistaken references to other sections; and to correct typographical errors, misprints and other errors in certain sections of the statutes.

The people of the State of Wisconsin, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows: