The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

57.072 of the statutes is repealed and recreated to read:

The period of probation or parole ceases running upon the offender's absconding or committing a crime or some other violation of the terms of his probation or parole which is sufficient in the opinion of the court or the department to warrant a revocation of probation or parole. It remains tolled until the happening of one of the following events: receipt of the offender at the penal institution to which he has been sentenced or from which he has been paroled; in cases supervised by the department, reinstatement of the offender's parole or probation by order of the department; in cases of misdemeanants and in cases under section 57.025, reinstatement of probation by order of the court. The date of the order of reinstatement is the date on which the period of probation or parole again begins to run.
