TO ASSEMBLY BILL 331

June 1, 2021 - Offered by Representatives STEINEKE and STUBBS.

1     AN ACT to create 165.85 (4) (a) 5m. of the statutes; relating to: requiring

3           prior to employment as a law enforcement officer and granting rule-making 4           authority.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill adds to the responsibilities of the Law Enforcement Standards Board (LESB). Under current law, the LESB must establish the minimum education and training standards for admission to employment as a law enforcement officer, establish minimum curriculum requirements for preparatory courses and programs, establish minimum curriculum requirements for recertification and advanced courses, and develop criteria for annual recertification training relating to police pursuit and handgun operation qualification. Additionally, the LESB is required to certify law enforcement officers following their preparatory training program and annually recertify officers who have completed their recertification training, and may also decertify officers for a variety of reasons.

This bill provides that prior to employment on a full-time basis as a law enforcement officer, an individual must submit to a psychological examination to determine the individual's suitability to perform the duties of an officer. The LESB must promulgate administrative rules to govern the administration and interpretation of such psychological examinations, including the type of test to be used and the time limits on such an examination's applicability. The examination must be performed by a licensed psychologist or a licensed physician, and must be paid for by the prospective employer. The records associated with the examination must be kept confidential and are not subject to public disclosure, but the determination of the individual's suitability to perform the duties of a law enforcement officer may be disclosed by the prospective employer or the LESB to other prospective employers.
