Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, with certain exceptions, no brewer or wholesaler of fermented malt beverages may give or sell anything of value to any retailer who is licensed to sell fermented malt beverages for consumption on the premises where sold. Also under current law, no person may possess any fermented malt beverages or intoxicating liquor (alcohol beverages) on premises that are licensed to sell fermented malt beverages, or allow alcohol beverages on those premises, if those alcohol beverages were not purchased from a wholesaler or if it would be otherwise unlawful to sell those alcohol beverages on the premises.

This bill allows a brewer, intoxicating liquor manufacturer or alcohol beverage wholesaler to furnish for tasting, free of charge, samples of alcohol beverages to any person attending a trade show, conference, convention or similar business meeting of a bona fide national or statewide trade association that derives income from membership dues of certain alcohol retailers, if the meeting is held on premises that are licensed to sell and serve fermented malt beverages. The bill prohibits any alcohol beverages brought on premises for distribution as a taste sample to remain on the premises after the close of the trade show, conference, convention or business meeting.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
