7 misdemeanors and providing a penalty.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill provides that persons who have committed certain misdemeanor offenses may not possess a firearm. Specifically, current law and the changes made by this bill are as follows:

Current law

Under current law, a person may not possess a firearm if he or she is a felony offender. A felony offender is a person to whom any of the following applies: 1) he or she has been found guilty of a felony; 2) he or she has been adjudicated delinquent as a juvenile for an act that would have been a felony if it had been committed by an adult; or 3) he or she has been found not guilty of a felony by reason of mental disease, defect or illness. In addition, under current law a person is prohibited from possessing a firearm if he or she has been involuntarily committed for treatment in a civil commitment proceeding and ordered not to possess a firearm, if he or she is subject to a domestic abuse or child abuse injunction, or if he or she is subject to a harassment injunction that includes an order not to possess a firearm.

If a felony offender or other person who is prohibited from possessing a firearm does possess a firearm, he or she is subject to the following penalties:

1. For a first offense, the person may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than two years or both, if the offense occurs before December 31, 1999, or may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than five years or both, if the offense occurs on or after December 31, 1999.

2. For a second or subsequent offense, the person may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than five years or both, if the offense occurs before December 31, 1999, or may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than ten years or both, if the offense occurs on or after December 31, 1999.

Current law also provides that a felony offender or other person who is prohibited from possessing a firearm may have the right to possess a firearm restored under certain circumstances. For instance, if a person found guilty of a felony is pardoned he or she may again possess a firearm unless the pardon provides that the person may not possess a firearm. A person adjudicated delinquent as a juvenile for an act that would have been a felony if it had been committed by an adult may again possess a firearm if a court determines that the person is not likely to act in a manner dangerous to public safety. Finally, a person who has been found not guilty of a felony by reason of insanity or mental disease, defect or illness may again possess a firearm if a court determines that the person is no longer insane or no longer has a mental disease, defect or illness and that the person is not likely to act in a manner dangerous to public safety.

Changes made by this bill

This bill prohibits certain serious misdemeanor offenders from possessing a firearm. A person is a serious misdemeanor offender if any of the following applies: 1) he or she has been found guilty of a serious misdemeanor; 2) he or she has been adjudicated delinquent as a juvenile for an act that would have been a serious misdemeanor if it had been committed by an adult; or 3) he or she has been found not guilty of a serious misdemeanor by reason of mental disease, defect or illness. A serious misdemeanor offender who possesses a firearm in violation of the prohibition created in the bill may be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than 90 days or both for a first offense. For a second or subsequent offense, the person may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than nine months or both.

The bill also provides that if a person found guilty of a serious misdemeanor is pardoned he or she may again possess a firearm unless the pardon provides that the person may not possess a firearm. In addition, the bill provides that a person who has been adjudicated delinquent for a serious misdemeanor or found not guilty of a serious misdemeanor by reason of mental disease or defect may have the right to possess a firearm restored in the same way that a person adjudicated delinquent or found not guilty of a felony by reason of mental disease or defect may have the right restored under current law.

SENATE BILL 236

The serious misdemeanors covered by the provisions of the bill include all of the following: attempting to commit battery to a law enforcement officer, fire fighter, probation, parole or extended supervision agent or juvenile aftercare agent; simple battery; simple battery to an unborn child; causing bodily harm by recklessly or negligently subjecting a vulnerable adult to maltreatment or by recklessly or negligently abusing or neglecting a patient or resident of certain facilities; stalking; intimidation of a victim or a witness; endangering safety by negligent or intoxicated handling of a firearm; carrying a concealed weapon; carrying a firearm in a public building; carrying a handgun in a tavern; unlawful use of oleoresin of capsicum (pepper spray); contacting a criminal gang member in violation of a court's no-contact order; resisting or obstructing an officer; harassment; recklessly leaving a loaded firearm within reach or easy access of a child; possession of a dangerous weapon by a minor; possession of firearm in a school zone; and possession of a dangerous weapon on school premises.
