Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill creates a new classification of motor vehicle called a “low-speed vehicle”. A low-speed vehicle is a four-wheeled motor vehicle that attains top speeds of not less than 20 miles per hour nor more than 25 miles per hour. The bill generally makes low-speed vehicles subject to the same regulations applicable to other motor vehicles, including the following:

1. Requires low-speed vehicles to be originally manufactured to meet federal equipment standards.
2. Subjects dealers, distributors, manufacturers and transporters of low-speed vehicles to the same regulations that apply to dealers, distributors, manufacturers and transporters of motorcycles. Such regulations include requiring business and occupational licensing, imputing liability for certain misconduct of employes and providing specific consumer protections, such as warranties, remedies and disclosure requirements.

3. Exempts low-speed vehicles from this state's property tax.

4. Requires low-speed vehicles to be registered with the department of transportation (DOT) for a fee of $23 biennially, the same period and fee that apply to motorcycles, and requires the display of a registration plate and valid proof of registration. Ownership of and interests in low-speed vehicles is evidenced only by a certificate of title, like other motor vehicles.

5. Classifies low-speed vehicles as "Class D" vehicles which, like automobiles and other "Class D" vehicles, may not be operated unless the operator possesses a valid operator's license or instruction permit to operate "Class D" vehicles.

6. Requires the operators of low-speed vehicles to observe the rules of the road, including this state's implied consent law, and subjects violators of those rules to the same penalties as those that apply to violations committed while operating other motor vehicles, including the assessment of demerit points and the imposition of fines, forfeitures and terms of imprisonment.

7. Makes low-speed vehicles subject to mechanics' liens.

However, because low-speed vehicles are smaller, lighter and slower moving than most other motor vehicles, the bill treats low-speed vehicles differently from most other motor vehicles in the following respects:

1. Low-speed vehicles, other than those publicly owned and operated, are generally restricted to highways having a speed limit 25 or less miles per hour. However, a local authority may authorize their operation on highways having speed limits of 35 miles or less per hour. Local highway authorities may further regulate or restrict their operation.

2. Low-speed vehicles are prohibited from operating on state trunk highways and connecting highways, even where the applicable speed limit is 25 or less miles per hour. However, the bill allows low-speed vehicles to cross state trunk highways or connecting highways at officially designated crossings and at intersections where traffic is controlled by an official traffic control sign, signal, marking or other device.

The bill makes low-speed vehicles eligible for registration by DOT as a specially designed vehicle if the vehicle meets special equipment standards. Under current law, a person who does not possess or is ineligible for a regular operator's license may be issued a special restricted operator's license, which authorizes the operation of only motor bicycles, mopeds or specially designed vehicles and may further restrict such operation as DOT determines is necessary, for example, to preserve the safety of the operator and the public.

Finally, the bill categorically exempts low-speed vehicles from motor vehicle emission limitations and testing.
