Such a harbor is herein designated a joint harbor. Such commission shall be known as the "... Harbor Commission" (carrying the name of the Wisconsin city in which the commission is located), and such harbor commission is referred to in this chapter as the commission. This chapter shall not become operative in any city until the city council of such a city shall, by resolution, accept the provisions of this chapter, and until the city clerk shall certify to the secretary of state that this chapter has been adopted and is in force in such city. [1933 c. 490]

138.02 Composition; terms. Such commission shall consist of three members who shall be appointed by the mayor of the city in which the commission is located, and shall be confirmed by the council. All members shall be residents of the city in which the commission is located, and all members shall be appointed with special reference only to ability and fitness for the office. The members shall serve without compensation other than remuneration for expenses. Of the first members, one shall be appointed for a two-year term, one for a four-year term and one for a six-year term with terms beginning on the first day of July of the year in which this chapter shall be adopted. After the expiration of these first terms all members shall hold their offices for the terms of six years each or until their successors shall be appointed, confirmed and qualified. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment for unexpired terms. All members shall qualify by taking the oath of office provided for officers of the city. [1933 c. 490]

138.03 Organization; meetings. Upon the appointment and confirmation of the members of such commission, they shall organize by electing one of the members president, one vice president, and by electing a secretary who may or may not be a member of the commission. The secretary, whether a member of the commission or a nonmember, may be paid such salary as may be fixed by the commission provided that such salary shall be paid only out of revenues of the commission, unless the city council shall authorize the salary or some part of it paid out of the city treasury. The commission shall hold meetings at such times and places as it may appoint, and it may adopt such by-laws consistent with law as may seem practical for its regulation and government. [1933 c. 490]

138.04 Jurisdiction of commission. Such commission shall be the official body representing the Wisconsin part of such joint harbor and its equipment and shipping facilities and interests. It shall be the duty of its members to obtain available information on, and to study, the needs of the harbor and its appurtenances and shipping interests, both with reference to its separate Wisconsin and its joint aspects, and it shall be the duty of the commission to make such recommendations to the proper authorities from time to time for the proper maintenance, improvement and betterment of the harbor and especially the Wisconsin part of such joint harbor and its docks, warehouses, wharves and slips and its harbor, dock, wharf and other facilities, equipment and its shipping interests, including railroad terminals and service, and shipping facilities and interest in general, as may seem needful and practical, and to take such steps as may seem practical to cause such recommendations to be carried out and put into effect. [1933 c. 490] or held by the city in which such commission is located, shall be under the exclusive charge, control, management and operation of the commission, and all docks, wharves, buildings, structures, tracks or improvements made on, or to, city owned or controlled docks or shipping property, and all repairs and alterations thereto shall be made by the commission, and in accordance with its plans. In addition to having charge, control, management and operation of city-owned harbor property and facilities the commission may acquire by gift, purchase, exchange or condemnation real estate and property in its own right, and may improve it by the construction of docks, wharves, bridges, tunnels and other buildings, structures and improvements including dredging, and it may make improvements jointly with the other city located on the joint harbor, or with a harbor commission or similar body located in such other city, and the commission may jointly with the other city, commission or similar body manage, control and operate such joint improvements. [1933 c. 490]

The commission shall have the right of eminent domain, and may condemn any real estate or property necessary or appropriate for any of the purposes or powers herein granted or implied and not necessarily used by some other public utility. As a preliminary to such condemnation the commission shall adopt a resolution providing for the condemnation of the land or property, describing it as definitely as practical and designating the use to be made of such property, and condemnation proceedings may be conducted in accordance with chapter 32 as far as applicable. The commission may borrow money and mortgage its interest in the land and property being condemned to pay the compensation for land or property so condemned.
